2,000 HOMELESS IN JERSEY CITY'S BIG CONFLAGRATION

Jersey City, N. J., Nov. 15 (INS.)—Explosions continued and flames still raged today in the ruins of factories and tenements laid waste by fire—this city's greatest—yesterday.

All through the night firemen, their faces wan and ghastly in the fitful glare of the blaze, their bodies almost numb with exhaustion, continued their efforts to extinguish the conflagration suddenly tossed by an explosion in the Battelle and Renwick Saltpetre works. They knew, however, that the fight had been won. Progress of the fire had been checked It was stated by fire officials however that it might continue to blaze and smolder for days.

Latest estimates were that 2,000 persons had been made homeless. Property damage will reach $6,000,000 it was reported.

Three investigations were begun by police and fire departments and the county prosecutor were under way to determine if any one through criminal negligence, had been culpable.

A survey showed that three entire city blocks had been laid waste, buildings on three others damaged, and fifty firemen, policemen and rescue workers overcome by smoke or injured. Nine of them still were in hospitals. The saltpetre works, the Richards Chemical company plant, the nine story building of the American Sugar Refining Company, storage warehouses of Colgate and Company, and the refining company and scores of frame tenements were destroyed.

Florida Train Wreck Is Fatal To Four; 14 Others Severely Cut and Bumped

Miami, Fla., Nov. 15 (INS.)—Four persons were killed here today and fourteen others suffered more or less serious injury following the wreck of a rear day coach on a Florida East Coast Railway passenger train. A broken brake beam pried the car from the rails. It bumped along a few rods and then toppled over on its side, crushing its victims. The dead were killed instantly.

The dead:

Mrs. M. Laneye, 30, Detroit, Mich.
Mrs. Lizzie Foxton, Alpena, Mich.
Miss Ruby Stone, 35, Northfield,
An unidentified baby, believed to be that of Mrs. Laneye.

The injured included:

Mrs. Robert A. Davis, Northfield, Vt
Miss Blanche Stone, Northfield, Vt.
Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Hethcoat, Waycross, Ga.
Mr and Mrs. John J. Kaanaugh, Passaic, N. J.
Alexander Lamar, Detroit, Mich.
Miss Alexia Leman, Detroit.
Mr. and Mrs. William C. Miller, Linwood, Mich.
Helena Davis, Northfield, Vt.

It was not believed any of the injured would die. They were sent to hospitals in Fort Pierce.

The wreck occurred near Wabasse, Fla., while the train was running to make up half an hour lost time, according to the Florida East Coast dispatcher at Miami.

Tariff Commission Split Three To Two On Sugar Is Report To Coolidge

Washington, Nov. 14. (INS.)—The United States Tariff Commission is split, three to two, over its recommendations on the sugar tariff, Chairman Marvin reported to President Coolidge today. Marvin said the report would be ready for the President shortly.

Additional data on the relative costs of producing beet sugar in Cuba and the United States were requested by the President before ruling on proposals to change the sugar tariff.

COOLIDGE ELECTION FOILED GOLDMAN

London, Nov. 15. (INS.)—Emma Goldman's hope for a return to the country where she preached revolution and accomplished only her own deportation, dimmed with the tremendous victory of President Coolidge, she told International News Service today in the first authorized interview she has granted since her return to England.

Widespread Recognition Has Been Given Freely To Betty Lane Shephard

Among the American singers who have come into prominence in recital halls and have by the artistry of their songs, proven that our nation is capable of producing and training splendid vocalists, few have met with such widespread recognition as Betty Lane Shepherd, who appears in a Recital at the Clearfield High School Auditorium on the evening of November 18th

A gifted soprano, hers is an case of singing that captivates the hearer, the bird-like notes coming forth in prodigal fullness. There is delicacy in the beauty of her tone, fine expression in her interpretation, and when demanded a splendid strength and power. A natural voice, she has trained this instrument until it is adequate for all demands of sustained lyrics and florid passages.

Miss Shepherd was born in Pennsylvania, of parents who were musicians of exceptional ability. The musical environment in which she lived, together with her diligent study and untiring energy, have brought her musicianship to the present state of perfection.

The many and separated parts of this country that have heard her are agreed that her Recitals are ever welcome delights. They alike praise her winning personality, clear expression, and her talented interpretation of unusual and varied programs. Not alone in Recitals, but as soloist with oratorio societies and orchestras is her thorough training visible. She is unusually versatile and the wide range of her voice encompasses either dramatic or coloratura roles with equal facility and art.

It is expected that this Concert will undoubtedly prove one of the outstanding features of the musical season here.

Admittance will be by complimentary ticket only, which may be secured from Sheeder's Music House. Adv.

Auto Thieves Killed One Hour After They Steal Rochester Auto

Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 15 (INS.)—Riding in an automobile which had been stolen an hour earlier, Eugene Schnabel, 21, and Otto Etna, 22, both of this city, were killed today when an eastbound New York Central Express train struck the car at the cold water crossing.

ENTERTAIN FOR NEWLY WEDS

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Carr entertained for their son Philip S. Carr and his new bride at their home in Pleasant Grove. Between fifty and seventy-five persons were present and a very enjoyable time was had. Mrs. Philip S. Carr received many useful and valuable presents. Guests were present from Clearfield and Philipsburg.

REBEKKAHS ENTERTAIN

The Rebekkah lodge of Clearfield entertained at a six o'clock dinner the Rebekkahs of DuBois on Thursday evening at Jordan's. Covers were laid for 80. After the dinner they adjourned to the I. O. O. F. hall, where they had the regular business meeting and an entertainment of music and speaking.

If You Cannot Be At Home From 2 To 3 O'Clock Tomorrow Leave Your Money At Your Neighbors

WORKERS READY

Sunday afternoon at two o'clock no less than one hundred men of Clearfield will go forth on an important errand; that of collecting funds with which to maintain this city's standing on the National Red Cross Roll Call and, what is more important, to gather a sufficient amount of money to continue the services of the community nurse under Red Cross direction. The city has been mapped, districted and sub-districted until each solicitor will have but a very small area to canvass. The job will be begun promptly at two o'clock and everybody should be through within an hour.

One dollar will buy for you a Red Cross membership but it will contribute only fifty cents to the community nursing project. We are quite sure that the great majority of citizens want to have a bigger part in such a worthwhile work. As has been explained before, a subscription of five dollars will give four dollars and fifty cents to the local work, a subscription of fifty dollars will give forty nine dollars and fifty cents to local work, etc. Many organizations have already sent donations of from $25 to $50. More are going to do so.

To continue to maintain the nursing service and the other activities in the community is going to require better than five thousand dollars. That is not much for a community like this, especially in view of the comfort and relief it will give to hundreds of families throughout the year who may need emergency help.

Do all you can. You cannot put your personal charity fund to a better use.

Recently the Clearfield County Medical Society was asked to give an opinion as to the desirability of continuing the nursing work. Here is the answer from the men who know the needs of the community:

Mr. M. M. Overly, Chairman,
Clearfield Chapter Red Cross,
Clearfield, Pa.,

Dear Sir: In response to your letter of January 8, 1924 relative to the Hourly Nursing program of the Red Cross, I have the pleasure to report that after discussing the communication in our regular monthly meeting of the Society, the program as set forth in your communication was unanimously endorsed by the Clearfield County Medical Society and the endorsement is transcribed on the minutes.

Sincerely Yours,
J. M. Quigley, M. D. Sec.

And here are letters from Dr. J. Paul Frantz and Dr. Lever Stewart, both of them strongly endorsing the work already done and pleading for a continuance in order that distress and suffering be relieved and the lot of our average citizen made happier:

Mrs. George Reed, Clearfield Pa.,

My dear Mrs. Reed: The announcement that the maintenance of the Community Nursing Service in Clearfield was being jeopardized by reason of lack of funds is a keen disappointment I am sure to all physicians as well as to the many many sufferers to whom this service has been a real boon on many occasions.

I heartily endorse and support any means that your hard-working community can devise whereby this work may be carried on, for to permit Clearfield with its progressive spirit to abandon such a work after so well organized would surely be a step backward and is inconceivable.

Yours very sincerely,
J. Paul Frantz.

Mrs. George Reed, Clearfield Pa.,

Dear Madam: It is with regret that I learn that it is probable that

POPULAR VOTE TABULATION SHOWS DAVIS WORST DEFEATED CANDIDATE IN HISTORY OF THE UNITED STATES

Final Calculations Also Show There Are Still Millions of Vote Slackers In Our Country.

INTERESTING DOPE

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
(I. N. S Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Nov. 14.—Revised and virtually complete figures on the presidential election of 1924 today destroyed some of the popular illusions that were held by political observers prior to the national march to the polls on the fourth of November.

For one thing, the popular vote, as now compiled, falls considerably short of the thirty million mark estimated by the various campaign managers, and in the final analysis will barely exceed the 26,000,000 mark established in the Harding-Cox fight four years ago.

These figures show that, despite the strenuous and in many instances non-partisan efforts to get out the vote, there are still millions of "vote slackers" who refuse to allow a presidential contest to interfere with their pleasure or routine of life

Official returns from all states are still lacking, but the vote today had been sufficiently tabulated to reveal some interesting facts anent the epochal election of 1924, which will be studied and pored over by the political historian of the future.

Comparison between the races run by Davis and Cox against Coolidge and Harding, respectively are difficult to make, although history will record both of them as badly beaten candidates. Davis carried one more state than Cox did, 12 against 11, yet Davis ran more than a million votes behind Cox in the popular vote. On the basis of the La Follette complication, some observers believe that Davis ran proportionately stronger against Coolidge than Cox did against Harding.

Unofficial but fairly accurate totals for the 1924 election are:

Coolidge, 14,100,000.
Davis, 8,000,000.
La Follette, 4,300,000.

The vote for minority tickets such as Prohibition, Single Tax, Socialist, Labor, American, etc., will be necessary to bring the 1924 popular vote ahead of the 1920 figures.

On this basis of virtually complete tabulations, which all parties agree is probably accurate, it is shown that President Coolidge ran ahead of Harding in 17 states, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, New Hampshire, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont, Wyoming, Florida, and South Carolina.

Coolidge ran behind Harding in 31 states: Arizona, Delaware, Georgia, Idaho, Iowa, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New York, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Dakota, Tennessee Texas, Utah, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin, Alabama, Arkansas, North Carolina, Virginia, New Mexico.

Davis ran ahead of Cox in 19 states: Georgia, Illinois, Iowa, Massachusetts, Michigan, Mississippi, Nebraska, New Jersey, New York, Oklahoma, Rhode Island, Texas, Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia, and Utah.

Young De Witt, High School Boy, Acquitted On Charge Of Murder

Pottsville, Pa., Nov. 14. (INS.)—After two hours' deliberation, a jury today acquitted William de Witt, Port Carbon high school boy, of the murder of his father whom he shot and killed several weeks ago. The youth's mother and younger brother both testified he fired the fatal shot while the father was making a drunken assault on his mother.

A. Y. FINDLAY DIES

The death of A. Y. Findlay of Franklin, Pa., at the Clearfield hospital last night, while not unexpected is a shock to his Clearfield friends.

Mr. Fleming of Franklin, who is a partner of Mr. Findlay, was here and will accompany Mrs. Findlay to Franklin today. Dr. Wilder, a son-in-law, from Detroit, Mich., and W. S. Bouton and family will take the body to Franklin tomorrow for burial. The funeral will be held on Tuesday at 2.30 from his late residence in Franklin.

Mr. Findlay was in the insurance business in Franklin and was also state insurance inspector for the Camden Insurance Company. He had been in their employ for thirty years and was to have been pensioned by them on December 1 had he lived until then.

PROTEST P. P. S. PURCHASE

The Penn Public Service Company recently purchased the Solar Electric Company, the concern supplying the town of Brookville with electric light. The town council of Brookville, which has been trying to buy the plant for the borough, and fearing an increase in rates for juice, will protest the sale to the Pennsylvania Public Service Commission, according to the Brookville American. "The contention of the council is that the boro of Brookville and its taxpayers for their own use as well would suffer increased rates for electricity if the "Penn Public" were to purchase the holdings of the "Solar" at the contemplated figure of $150,000. Council's appraisement of the plant, equipment and all is at least half of that amount. The contention will be that in order to finance this deal the company would raise the rates."

On September 18, 1924, Borough Council passed a resolution calling for the purchase of "the works of the Solar Electric Company at such price as may be agreed upon by the Borough and a majority in value of the Stockholders of the Solar Electric Company, and on failure to agree, to present petition to the court of Common Pleas of Jefferson County, asking for the appointment of viewers to assess the value of the plant and works so taken."

Mrs. M. Rowles was in town from Woodland, Friday.

Little Change In Mrs. Harding's Condition; Gets Very Little Rest

Marion, O., Nov. 15 (INS.)—Mrs Harding slept very little last night, "but held her own" declared an official bulletin issued at White Oaks farm this morning at 8:15. "Heart attacks are less in severity. Mrs. Harding's condition is just about the same as yesterday.

BIG COAL PROPERTY IS TRANSFERRED

According to news which originates in Williamsport, the firm of Peale, Peacock & Kerr, has just acquired title to a tract of coal land which consists of 5000 acres, located in Lycoming county.

The property was purchased from Mrs. Annie Walker Penfield, and is located near English Center, and it is estimated there are approximately thirty million tons in the property.

It is the intention of the purchaser to build a section of railroad which will create an outlet for the coal, connecting with the New York Central at Cedar Run.

Mrs. Joseph Nixon entertained yesterday in honor of the anniversary of her son's birth. In the afternoon the young people enjoyed the hospitality of the Nixon home and in the evening the older people were entertained.

Want Assessment Made In Accordance With Law Over In Jefferson County

The County Commissioners of Jefferson county have decided to have real estate assessments in their county made according to the provisions of the law governing assessments for tax purposes. It is a new, but sensible departure, but is naturally causing more or less trouble and misgivings, especially from those who have been receiving favors at the hands of friendly assessors.

In speaking of the new departure the Punxsutawney Spirit says:—

Considerable discussion has been aroused throughout the county over the instructions to assessors to comply with the law and base their assessments at 100 per cent of the forced sale value of the property This discussion runs the gamut from those who believe the action is sensible and timely to another element who are planning unostentatious funeral arrangements for the present board of commissioners.

There seems to be little doubt in the minds of persons who have made a study of past conditions in the county that there will be considerable disagreement over the new system of valuations, but it is believed that the general application of the 100 per cent feature throughout the county will result in a more equalized assessment that will give the county a much higher valuation, and at the same time will result in a proportionate cut in the county millage so that the actual taxation will be no higher than previously, except in cases where the liberal interpretation of the percentage of value has given some property owners very low taxes in the past.

Those who favor the literal interpretation of the law point out that some classes of taxpayers are now paying on a basis of about 50 per cent valuation, while it is said that others, in other districts get off as low as 25 or 30 per cent. In other words, a horse is not the same horse in a different township.

As for the commissioners, they do not feel that there is anything else for them to do under the circumstances but to notify the assessors to comply with the law, and they have said that they intend to keep the county expenses down to the lowest possible minimum, so that the county government will not cost any more than it has in the past. The millage rate will be lowered so as to raise just enough to meet the county requirements.

CASE DISCOVERED TODAY SHOWS NEED OF NURSE SERVICE

Of course you know that the Red Cross Roll Call starts tomorrow.

Have you made up your mind how much you can afford to give, that our town might continue to have the benefit of a community nurse? That our Baby Clinics may be carried on and welfare work of all kinds maintained.

At this writing the nurse at headquarters is telephoning a physician in regard to a serious defect in a little child which must be corrected at once. This is a Red Cross case and is typical of what is happening often here, and this case, in all probability would have received no attention had it not been for our community nursing service. Just one case like this makes the whole service worth while.

Out of a splendid response of nearly two hundred volunteers, four team Captains have chosen their workers. These workers will assemble in the Arbitration Room of the Court House at 1:30 tomorrow for supplies and instructions. The reserve list of volunteers will be drawn upon to finish the canvassing, as there is always some ground to be covered a second time. A record will be kept of those who are not seen tomorrow and they will be called upon again. Every family is to have the opportunity and PRIVILEGES of giving to this most worthy cause.

Court Rules Against The Protest On Scrapping Of U. S. Ship Washington

Washington, Nov. 14. (INS.)—The District of Columbia supreme court this afternoon dismissed a suit by William B. Shearer, of New York, who asked for an order restraining Secretary of the Navy Wilbur from ordering the destruction of the battleship "Washington," one of the vessels condemned under the naval limitation treaty.

The ruling was that Shearer, who claimed to be a "naval expert" suing as a tax payer, had no equity, and that the court had no jurisdiction.

Dismissal of the suit was asked by Wilbur, who declared that he was merely carrying out the will of congress in ordering the ship scrapped.

Oil City War Veteran Is Dead By Own Hand; No Motive Known For Deed

Oil City, Pa., Nov. 15 (INS.)—Ralph D. McLouth, 40, former Capt. Supply Co., 112th Infantry, of 28th Division during the World War, today committed suicide here by shooting himself through the brain according to city authorities.

McClouth leaves a wife who was formerly Katherine Weyman of Franklin, and two children. No motive was given for the shooting.

HEALTH CONDITIONS GOOD

Secretary Gaulin's weekly health report shows there were two cases of contagious disease reported to the Board of Health and placed under quarantine during the past seven days. One was diphtheria and the other chicken pox.

During the week one case of diphtheria was released from quarantine, leaving four cases of contagion under quarantine at present.

They are located as follows:

First Ward, none; Second Ward, one case of diphtheria; Third Ward, one case of diphtheria; Fourth Ward, two cases of chicken pox.

HICCOUGH EPIDEMIC AT RICHMOND, VA.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

United States army aviators flew 293,360 miles during 1923 with a loss of eighteen lives, according to statistics given out at McCook Field.

The number of miles covered by the airmen is based upon the slowest airplane, the De Haviland, which ordinarily travels at 120 miles an hour. The distance covered is more than 314 times around the world. Army flyers put in 75,778 hours in the air.

McCook Field officers said there is no other mode of transportation that can produce like figures.

The New York World in an article styling Greater New York "a marvel" has the following to say of real estate values there:

"Four miles from the financial center of the city, a plot of ground has been bought for a bank at $304 per square foot—that is at the rate of $608,000 for a twenty-foot lot, such as a man buys in the suburbs to build a house; or of $13,192,240 an acre. A modern building on the site is to be torn down to make way for the new structure.

"This is and is not a record. Small slices and key plots needed in development have sold at a higher square inch price than $2.11. Even in the Flatiron site, facing Madison Square such a plot brought nearly as much years ago; but for a complete normal lot the top price is believed to have been reached in this sale.

"Compare the figures with old times. Philip Hone in his diary eighty-four years ago was lamenting the sale of No. 1 Broadway, with its fine mansion, for $15,000—about $2.25 a square foot. Previous to that there had been a furious speculation in city land which brought the corner of Wall and Broad streets into the market at upward of $3 a square foot; but there was a great slump to follow in his long life Hone recorded no sale on Fifth Avenue above 10th street. That was in the country.

The record made by a special Lake Shore and Michigan Southern train 72 years ago still stands. In a distance run on an October morning in 1848 a train sped from Chicago to Buffalo, 510 miles at an average speed of 61.8 miles an hour. Several months earlier a british train had run from London to Aberdeen 540 miles, at an average speed of 63.93 miles an hour. A week or two after this a New York Central had run from New York to East Buffalo, 436 miles, at an average speed of 64.26, one-third of a mile faster than the English train. It was to beat these records that the Lake Shore officials decided to make the run.

The suggestion that the run be made was offered by Dr. W. Seward Webb, at that time a director of the Lake Shore, in conversation with William K. Vanderbilt, who authorized it, says a bulletin of the New York Central railroad, in recalling the record run. Dr. Webb was one of the passengers. Another was James Leeley, then the editor of the Chicago Tribune, who wrote a vivid account of the trip. The Lake Shore is now a part of the New York Central system. The bulletin points out that this record run has never been surpassed for sustained speed by a locomotive over an equal distance.

ENTERTAINED CIRCLE

Sheridan Circle No. 45 of Philipsburg and the members who belong in Clearfield were royally entertained last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Thomas, South Fourth street. Quite a few of the members were in fancy masquerade suits. The evening was spent in old fashioned square dancing and playing cards. Delicious refreshments were served, after which the circle departed for home, all voting they had enjoyed an evening of real sport.

DRIVE FOR FUNDS BEGINS TOMORROW

our local Red Cross Chapter will have to dispense with their Community Nursing Service on account of lack of funds. Although my own work does not often carry me to the homes of patients, in the instances where I have been interested in people who were ill or who required treatment at their homes I have found that the Community Nurse at once provided proper nursing care and training in general hygenic procedure with which the average lay person is not familiar. In numerous instances this service has enabled patients to get treatment which should properly be given by a nurse at a cost much less than the services of a physician could be obtained for.

At all times I have found the nurse most anxious to co-operate with the physician to the fullest extent.

I am not alone familiar with the service I have briefly outlined above, but I do know of the greater good this service carried to the homes of the poor people so much more in need of nursing help than those living in more comfortable surroundings. Were it possible for the Community Nurse to visit only the homes of poor people and help with their trials during illness and distress it should be sufficient reason for continuing the service.

I feel confident the charitably inclined people of our community will not allow this very real, practical service to cease.

Very sincerely yours,
(Signed) Lever F. Stewart.

A Good Sign.

Inquiry is made whether a wave of something cannot be discovered that would add to the sum of happiness, as a relief from the crime waves and suicide waves which we are constantly regaled. It is nevertheless a good sign that a wave of happiness is still not news. AFTER BABY WAS BORN

Back Weak and Painful. Mrs. Miller Benefited by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Rotan, Texas.—"I am writing to let you know how I have been benefited by taking your medicine. After my second baby was born my back was weak and hurt me continually, so I thought I'd try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as I had read so much about where it had helped so many women. I had been bothered with my back for over a year, and it would hurt me until I could not do my work, which is keeping house for three and cooking and washing dishes. I tell all my friends if they have any kind of female troubles to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. You may use this testimonial if it will help any one."—Mrs. C. R. MILLER, R. F. D. No. 1, Box 76, Rotan, Texas.

In a recent country-wide canvass of purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound over 121,000 replies were received, and 98 out of every 100 reported they were benefited by its use. For sale by druggists everywhere.

It Rolls up Good Will Through Merit Alone

It is easy to understand the vast volume of good will the good Maxwell has rolled up.

The car earns it through sheer merit alone. You grasp this at once as soon as you become familiar with its powerful, yet agile performance, the easy, effortless manner in which it does its job, its comfort, its economy.

Then you say to yourself: No wonder these Maxwell owners are enthusiasts. They are enjoying a performance—an automotive service—distinguished by qualities never before found in a four, a performance worthy of a far higher price.

You, too, will confirm this judgment and add to the good will, directly you become really acquainted with the Chrysler-built Maxwell of today.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Peter Takes His Stand.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Duties and Glory of Confessing Christ.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Does It Matter What One Believes Concerning Christ?

This confession in some sense marks the turning point in Christ's ministry. Hereafter it is more restricted to His disciples. Two reasons why this should be sufficient are (vv. 1-12): (1) The Pharisees and Sadducees show their attitude toward Him in their demand for a sign. His answer is that none shall be given save that of His death and resurrection, as symbolized in the experiences of the prophet Jonah. (2) The disciples show their inability to understand the spiritual nature of His teaching. When He warned them of the leaven of the Pharisees and Sadducees they understood Him to refer to bread, when He meant their doctrine. It was at this crisis when Christ turned from the nation which had rejected Him that Peter made this great confession. It was made in the borders of Caesarea-Philippi, practically Gentile territory.

I. Occasion Of (vv. 13-16).

Two questions of Christ provoked this confession:

1. The question as to the opinion of people concerning Him.

They recognized Him as a teacher or a prophet of more than human authority and power. Today, as then, there is a diversity of opinion among the people as to Jesus Christ. Some think He is only a man; others that He is a great teacher, but nothing more. Had He been content with this He would not have been molested in Jerusalem, for the Jews willingly acknowledged Him as more than a human teacher. It was His persistent claim to be the God-man, the Son of God, that sent Him to the cross.

2. The second question involved the personal opinion of the disciples concerning Him. To be able to tell what others think of Jesus is not enough; there must be definite, correct and personal belief on Him.

II. The New Body, the Church, Announced (vv. 17-20).

Peter had made a noble confession of Christ, so now Christ confesses him. If we confess Christ He will confess us (Matt. 10:32, 33). Christ declared His intention of bringing into existence a new body to the members of which He will give eternal life, and to whose hands He will entrust the keys of the Kingdom. Peter was to have a distinguished place in this body. The keys entrusted to Him were used on the day of Pentecost, and again in the case of Cornelius. Association in this new body cannot be broken by death, for the gates of hades shall not prevail against it. This body, the church, is of a heavenly origin, a heavenly calling and a heavenly inheritance.

III. The Cross the Way to the Throne (vv. 21-33).

This was, no doubt, startling to the disciples. They did not realize that redemption was to be accomplished through the passion of the cross. So unwelcome was this announcement that Peter cried, "This shall not be unto thee." Peter later saw through this darkness to the glory on the hilltop beyond. A new hope then filled his breast (I Pet. 1:3, 4). Victory through death is yet the stumbling block of many. Many are stumbling over the doctrine of salvation and redemption through the suffering of the cross.

IV. The Cost of Discipleship (vv. 24-27).

To follow Christ means suffering. To follow Him is to turn one's back upon the world. Life can only be saved by losing it. If we are going to be Christians we must share Christ's suffering. We cannot go to heaven on flowery beds of ease.

1. There must be denial of self (v. 24). There is a wide difference between self-denial and denial of self. Self-denial is practiced everywhere by all—people, but only the disciples of Christ or Christian people deny self. Christ takes the place of self.

2. "Take up his cross." This cross is the suffering and shame which lie in the path of loyalty to God. To do our duty will mean suffering (II Tim. 3:12).

3. Follow Christ. This means to have the mind of Christ, to do like Christ. All such shall be rewarded when Christ comes in glory.

What to Hate

I will tell you what to hate. Hate hypocrisy; hate cant; hate indolence, oppression, injustice; hate Pharisaism; hate them as Christ hated them—with a deep, living, God-like hatred.—F. W. Robertson.

With Every Day

Every day, as it rises out of eternity, keeps putting to each of us this question afresh—What will you do before this day has sunk into eternity and nothingness again?—F. W. Robertson.

In Advance of Their Age.

There are many tragic stories of men who made great discoveries before their time. Their inventions perished, only to be rediscovered and used in later ages. Archimedes, who lived more than two thousand years ago, designed and made a steam engine which really worked. His idea did not catch on, and the world had to wait twenty centuries until steam, raising the lid of a kettle, led James Watt to rediscover an old invention.

As Seen by Ed Howe.

Set a trap for the rich and the rule is that a poor man is caught in it. —From Howe's Monthly.

For Mending Rubbers.

Old jar rubbers can be heated in a pan until they become soft and then smeared on holes in your hot-water bottle, your boots, shoes, or anything else that needs mending. The rubber patch should be smoothed down with the heated blade of a knife.

A Ferry Tale.

A Revere resident on his way home had just crossed the gang plank when he espied a sizeable roll of bills under one of the seats. Stooping and picking it up, he murmured: "Ah, my good ferry has arrived at last."—Boston Transcript.

Lilac Universal Favorite.

From the wilds of Persia and southern Asia the lilac has traveled to Europe and America as a universal favorite of the springtime or lilac-time as the Puritans called it. It was these sturdy religionists who first brought it to America and planted it perhaps as a reminder of England, or possibly because of its sweet scent, its glorious purple, and its pure, simple, yet oftentimes awkward beauty.

POPULAR VOTE TABULATION

He ran ahead of Davis in 11 states: California, Idaho, Minnesota, Montana, Nevada, North Dakota, Oregon, South Dakota, Washington, Wisconsin, and Wyoming.

In most of these states, the combined total for La Follette and Davis exceeded the Coolidge vote.

The following table, based on virtually complete although unofficial returns, tells the story:

State	Coolidge	Davis	La Follette	Harding	Cox
Alabama	70,000	170,000	11,000	74,000	163,000

The Difference.

When you see an old man alone you are looking at something very sad; when you see an old man with a young wife, you are looking at something very rich.—From Eve, London.

There are many indications that La Follette cut far more deeply into Davis than into Coolidge. This is particularly true of the border states and the western states. In the border states like Kentucky and West Virginia and Maryland, La Follette took enough away from Davis to allow Coolidge to "squeeze through."

Dante Proved A Very Entertaining Magician; Drew Large Audiences

Everyone who attended the Driggs Theatre on Wednesday or Thursday had the old saw that "the hand is quicker than the eye" proven to them beyond a question of a doubt. For two hours Dante, the world famous magician, completely mystified two audiences with his deft manipulations and while one knew that they were so-called "tricks" the cleverness with which the various portions of the entertainment were carried out, was amazing.

From the opening number, "Twenty Illusions with Dante" to the closing act in which water appeared from everywhere, it was a good show and the fact that the second night's audience was nearly as large as the first, a remarkable thing in Clearfield play going, was a clear demonstration that the show was pleasing from start to finish.

McQUILLEN—TURNER

Yesterday morning at 9:30 o'clock in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nin[illegible] Quillen in Aylesboro avenue, [illegible] marriage of their daughter, [illegible] Mary Margaret McQuillen and Wi[illegible] liam Wallace Turner, son of Mr. [illegible] Mrs. John A. Turner of Grove Cit[illegible] was solemnized by the Rev. Dr. Ir[illegible] ton David Evans, pastor of the Am[illegible] bury Methodist Episcopal Church. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was gowned [illegible] white velvet embroidered with pearls and rhinestones and her veil of rose point lace was caught with a bandeau of lace, pearls and orange blossoms. She carried a shower of orchids and lilies of the valley. Only the immediate families and a few friends witnessed the ceremony, and there were no attendants. A breakfast followed the service, and later Mr. and Mrs. Turner left for a trip to Washington and Ashville, N. C. They will be at home in Aylesboro avenue after December 1.—Pittsburgh Gazette Times of Nov. 12th.

STRONG MEN FINISH STRONG

It is an easy matter to bluff the world. Fame is fickle, easily acquired, not hard to keep. Men are great in the eyes of men when they do big things. Identification with big things is usually enough to stamp a man great as the world does its appraising today.

These great men of the present, however, are merely "flashes". In the race of life many of them fail. They run neck and neck with the leaders until they reach the home stretch of life, where they fail. They lose and their friends lose. They are a keen disappointment to their backers.

Whether a man is going to finish strong in this life depends on, not the opportunities he has grasped, not the material success he has attained nor the fame that men have accorded to him, but in what he puts his trust and to what he looks for guidance. Correct business practices, ethical codes, law obedience are all wonderful helps. They create high ideals. But observation shows very plainly that the man who puts his whole faith into his religion and makes his religion and his life interlocking will have had advantage of all of these man made instruments, and in addition, built his life and his business on a rock which will ever be a firm and rigid foundation.

Recently, James B. Forgan, dean of Chicago bankers, died. Mr. Forgan was very prominent in the floating of the various war time loans. He occupied a unique position in our national life. No doubt much of the success he attained and no little of the esteem in which he was held is the direct result of his religious life.

He was a strong man in life. He was equally strong in the Great Finish. The manner of his crossing the goal has been the subject of much comment by men of large affairs. It will be interesting to you. Strong men finish strong.

Death resulted from heart failure. It came as he lay conscious, awaiting the end. He knew that death was near, and he summoned the immediate members of his family to his bed, one by one, for his last message.

Half an hour before he died, Mr. Forgan joined his voice with that of his friend and pastor, the Rev. John Timothy Stone, in the singing of a number of his favorite hymns.

And then he listened, a smile on his lips, as Dr. Stone read passages from the Scripture, which long had touched his heart.

Mr. Forgan was a faithful churchman, a regular attendant at services of Dr. Stone's church, the Fourth Presbyterian.

About two hours before the end, Mr. Forgan remarked to his nurse, "I've put up the best fight I could. But I'm going." It was then that he asked to see his wife, his children, their wives, and Dr. Stone.

When they gathered about him, the aged banker requested that Dr. Stone join him in song. His voice, strangely strong and sturdy for a dying man, was less unshaken than the voice of the clergyman.

GOLDEN OAK

By FLORENCE DAVIES.

"The living room is going to be lovely," said the woman who was doing her house over. "It's early Victorian, and we've scoured the country for an old-fashioned white marble mantel piece to hold our precious Staffordshire vases."

Shades of the past and the old marble mantel! It wasn't white marble that tried our souls when we were youngsters, but that elegant creation of a slightly later age, black onyx.

Black onyx, with its little tracery of gold, that shone like a great piece of jet in that old white and gold room And how we cringed when we invited in the youngsters of our set. Cringed because their homes were new and shiny and gloried in a whole Himalayan range of golden oak mantel shelves, with mirrors and fret-work and little upper shelves to hold the newest art glass vases.

Probably in all the history of human endeavor, in all the whole record of the soul's struggle to break its bonds and express itself in the beautiful, nothing more horrible has ever been created by the hand of man than those old abominations of varnished golden oak tortured by the jig-saw.

And yet how we ached for them, because the other girls had them in their houses.

What saving sense of beauty, or what courage stayed our parents' hands and kept them from demolishing the simple beauty of the old furninshings, in favor of the things we pleaded for, it is hard to say. Perhaps even in the midst of a passing fad it was that surer sense of the fit and the beautiful which kept them from yielding to our untutored whinis; and today we bless them for it. And yet, there's another side to the story.

Youngsters take their homes for granted while they are in the grub stage. But once they leave the sand pile and the paper dolls behind, these same youngsters suddenly wake up to a sense of ownership in their own homes.

That sense is perhaps the strongest stone in the foundation which every parent wants to lay for the future life of his child. That first sense of ownership and partial responsibility and hence of pride in his home is one of the great rocks upon which a child's character may be built.

How important a thing it is then to guard that budding spirit, to nourish it so well that it may send down deep roots and grow strong. How fine a thing it would be therefore, if whenever it were possible parents might afford a constant refurnishing and improvement of their homes, might allow these youngsters to feel that the things around them are to some extent at least in keeping with the things they admire in the homes of their friends.

Fortunately the period of golden oak horrors is past, so that some such policy as this could never lead to quite that disaster.

But some recognition of the pride which every youngster has in his own when once he leaves his baby days behind ought to be made by every parent who is building for the future.

Not in Weather Bureau's Sphere.

The science of the weather and the atmosphere is called meteorology, and has very little to do with astronomy. Yet the public almost invariably confuses meteorologists with astronomers and calls upon the weather bureau for information about comets, sunspots, eclipses and the calendar.

To Remove Scars.

Scars are difficult to eradicate, but a child or young person often will in time outgrow them. In some cases the scar tissue can be broken down and the appearance very much improved by electrical means. If one will be patient in steaming the scars and massaging regularly with a good cold cream this remedy will be of great help.

No Prestige for Groom.

Men get all the rough slams, even in the dictionary. "Groom" is defined as "one who takes care of horses," or who gets married. But a bride is just a bride, and isn't advertised anywhere as anything less complimentary.—Philadelphia Retail Ledger.

When a Woman's Mean.

"The meanest woman in England," testified a woman complainant, is a former friend who secretly photographed her while she was wearing a new gown of original design and then had a copy made.

Have Us Renew That Living Room Suite Before Thanksgiving

In order to have time to do good work on that living room suite that you would like to have looking nice when the folks gather home on Thanksgiving, let us have it this week.

Then we can do better work on it than if we have to rush it.

Such a bathroom is a source of pleasure to the family and a matter of pride to the heads of the house. It also adds both distinction and value to the house. Curwensville's Own Column

The "sock" social held in Grace Lutheran church last evening resulted in a good attendance and a nice sum for the church heating fund. There was abundance of fun and everybody was satisfied with their entertainment.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Dale of DuBois and their daughter, Mrs. B. B. Marlin, California, have been visiting at the home of Mrs. Alice Elder, Susquehanna avenue.

Messrs S. E. Deering, South Side, and Max Roth, Bloomington avenue, are both under physicians care. The former with an injured leg and the latter sprained and swollen wrists.

A social dance was an amusement for the young folks in the Opera H[illegible] last evening. The famous G[illegible]a orchestra was on hand and contributed the music.

Yesterday afternoon the supper in the Presbyterian church, under auspices of three of the S .S. classes, was a great success and was largely patronized by those who deserve a bountiful supper.

A shed or shelter room has been erected on the north side of the room occupied by Hayes' store on south Filbert street.

Do not forget that the famous Hospitallier Glee Club will be at the Methodist church on Sunday. Lovers of good music will do well to keep this fact in mind. Two opportune sermons will also be delivered by the pastor Rev. Dr. Adams.

Miss Tensie Way is now so far recovered from an attack of pneumonia as to be able to be up and around again and pleased to see her friends.

PARADISE

Mrs. James Rorabaugh and Mrs. Charley Mitchell of Burnside spent Monday with friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Sneddon and children of Patton and Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Haines of Kerr Addition were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Warner Evans Sunday last.

Mr. and Mrs. Clair Henchberger, of Plympetonville and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Henchberger motored to Limesville and visited relatives this week.

Mrs. Bert Dale, of DuBois, with her daughter, Mrs. Lilian Maurer, of California, spent several days calling on friends in our neighborhood. Mrs. Dale lived in Paradise for a number of years and was a welcome visitor everywhere. While here they enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Marty Owens and Mrs. Lena Richardson.

Rev. and Mrs. Gibson of the Eleventh Street M. E. Church were visitors at our grammar school on Tuesday afternoon. Rev. Gibson gave a very interesting talk on Armistice Day, which was enjoyed and greatly appreciated by the pupils. We, the parents of the scholars, feel very grateful to both Rev. and Mrs. Gibson for their visit to our school, and take this means of expressing our thanks.

Mrs. Leo Wilson has so far recovered as to be removed to her home from the Clearfield hospital.

Mrs. A. P. Walker and daughters Misses Elva and Mary Louise motored to Brookville yesterday.

The State Highway Department has erected four signs reading: "15 Miles per Hour." Nine out of ten drivers have never noticed the signs yet or probably "didn't care," and we just want to give notice to those who are careless about such things that two men with stop watches are along this road and are taking numbers of those who do not regard the signs. We do not want you to be one of these fellows, but the time has come when our children on their way to or from school must have protection. People who walk out our way to the hospital, people from different towns and cities, and even people from different states have all remarked that Paradise is one of the worst places for fast driving they ever saw. We realize we have a nice road (if we did fight for several years to get it), and it makes a nice place for a spin, but after this when you come to the hospital instead of putting your foot on, just ease up a little, light your cigar and go slow, for life is sweet. We thank you.

Mrs. John Fenton, James Livergood, and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Read and children motored to Stoneboro Friday and spent the day with Mrs. Read's sister, Mrs. Timothy Hennessey.

Lawrence township went Republican this election, something that has not happened in years. We are proud to say Paradise is in said township. We don't want to get behind.

The Highest Talent

There is no higher talent than that of being able to maintain kindly and helpful relations with uncongenial human beings.—Selected.

SPORTS

SPORTSMEN WILL TAKE THE BITTER WITH THE SWEET

We don't like to have to talk baseball when it is snowball time in Pennsylvania, but sometimes we poor, needy and overworked (?) (the boss is responsible for that like h—l mark) newspaper scribes are called upon to do just that.

Baseball, as we all have reason to know is a red-blooded, exhilarating pastime for both players and spectators, and while everybody gets a barrel of pleasure out of a winning ball team, there is always a modicum of pain and separation accompanying such condition. Here is where the pain and "separation" comes in.

Clearfield had the best team in the C. & C. League last season and at the end of the three months season romped home in the lead and copped the first League pennant. The team was made up entirely of local players who performed for a mere pittance and the glory of their old home town.

However, nevertheless and be that as it may, the expense of running or maintaining that team amounted to approximately $1500 per month. In itself quite a sizeable sum, but in the light of past experiences in Clearfield and surrounding towns, a mere decimal in a flood of figures.

To meet this expense contributions of $1702.50 were received, the local gate paid $2117.15, while park concessions totaled $43.29, for a grand total of $3862.94.

The expenditures of the club management for the season amounted to $4453.50. Of this sum $2444.40 was playing expense. Each player, except the pitcher and catcher, received $3.00 per game, the battery men having the big end of the work to do, getting double that amount for such games as they participated in. Surely a nominal compensation, when it is remembered that two years ago $4500 wouldn't pay two weeks' salaries.

Well, to make a long story short the club management is in the hole $590.56 and would like to have the fans and all public spirited citizens who believe in fostering clean sport come across with enough cash to make up the deficit. That's where the "separation" comes in, and if every fan will separate himself from a $5, $10 or $20, as his financial circumstances warrant, the score will soon be paid and the slate cleaned up for next season.

It doesn't mean much from any one person and all who can do so and who appreciate the good work of the team last season should "come across". But whatever you do, do it quick..

The following financial statement has been furnished us for publication It gives in detail the receipts and expenditures for the season:

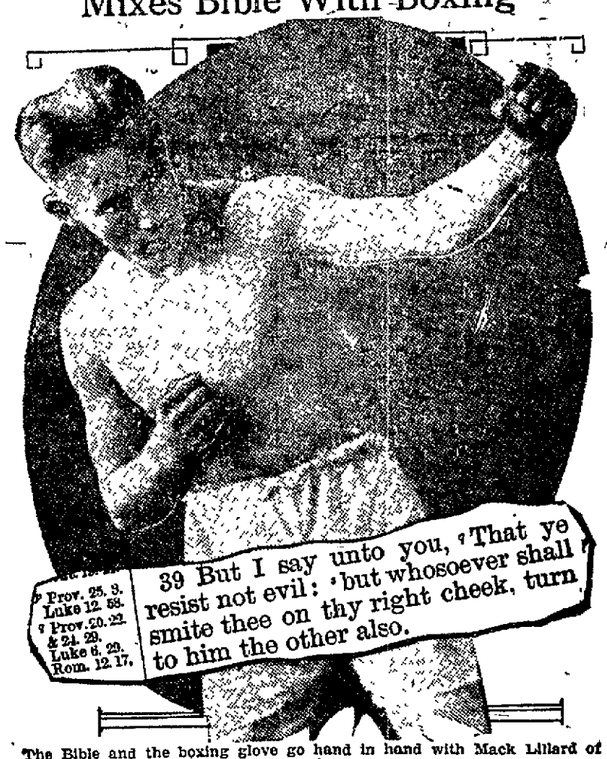
Mixes Bible With Boxing



The Bible and the boxing glove go hand in hand with Mack Lillard of Spokane, Wash. On Sundays Lillard is a Bible class teacher, on other days a boxer. To his Bible class he preaches, "Whosoever shall smite thee on the right cheek, turn to him the other also." In the ring Lillard interprets the biblical injunction differently. If, perchance, he happens to stop a stiff punch with the right cheek, the young gent simply tears into his opponent and tries his derndest for a knockout. And usually he succeeds. Soon he invades the east for professional bouts.

The Rosicrucians.

The Rosicrucians were members of a mystic secret society which became known to the public early in the Seventeenth century, and was alleged to have been founded by a German noble called Christian Rosenkreutz in 1388. He was said to have died at the age of 106. The Rosicrucians pretended to be able to transmute metals, to prolong life and to know what was passing in distant places. Their secret was never revealed, if there was one to reveal. The society is said to have died out in the Eighteenth century.

Scots Had First Macadam.

Macadam roads are so common in America that national pride may well lead us to look upon them as a domestic product. But John MacAdam was a Scot, resident in Ayrshire, where he made his first experiments about 1814. Five years later the first public roads were laid with the pavement, and a grateful parliament awarded the inventor a grant of $50,000. In 1827, after the new pavement had been thoroughly tested, MacAdam was made surveyor general of all metropolitan roads in and about London, and the use of his method became general throughout the United Kingdom.

New Workman Store On Nichols Street Rapidly Nearing Opening Day

The new "Workman's Cash Store on Nichols street, just below Weaver street, is nearing completion and will be opened to the public in a few days. It is a modern building in every detail and will be a big factor in serving the West Side with its food stuffs and meats.

The building is 25 feet wide by 80 feet deep. On the first floor there will be a modern grocery store and meat market. On the second floor will be located the general offices for the Workman chain of stores, which is now located in the Littman building on Second street. At the rear of the offices there is a cozy little five-room apartment.

On Monday next the stock of groceries will be moved from the Rollins Building to the new store and the grocery section will be open for business within a day or two. The meat market will not be opened for several days owing to the fact that the refrigeration system has not yet been installed.

This growing concern is to be congratulated on this step forward in furnishing to the West Side a complete grocery store and meat market A sanitary meat market will be a fine addition to the business concerns now located on the West Side.

Lightning Cleanses the Air.

Lightning is extremely healthful, asserts a scientist who has made that his life study. He does not mean that it is healthful to the person lightning strikes. What he means is this: "Lightning produces nitric acid and cleans the whole atmosphere of noxious exhalations." Had there never been a flash if lightning upon this earth in all the years of its existence the air now would be so foul that living would be impossible, some scientists say.

WOODLAND

Mr. and Mrs. Reed Barger motored to Tyrone on Sunday and visited relatives in that city.

Miss Elizabeth Barger spent Sunday afternoon at the home of Miss Arline Wheeling of Retort.

Master Teddy Turner, son of Lloyd Turner, fell on a flight of concrete steps one day last week and severely cut and bruised his face.

A flock of wild geese went over our town on Wednesday evening, evidently going south for the winter.

Mrs. Albert Peters and three children left Thursday morning for Irvona where they will spend several days visiting at the home of Mrs. Peters' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hatwick.

The Philathea class of the M. E. church was entertained on Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Charles Polkinghorn on R. R. St. and the Women's Bible Class at the home of Mrs. J. M. Baker of High Street.

The bridge over the N. Y. C. R. R. and the Run in the rear of the new school building is being erected. Part of the iron work is in place.

Mrs. Jean De Hass of Pittsburg is visiting her father, Ashley Soult.

Marshall Eshelman has moved from the Swift building into one of the new Woodland Cannal Coal houses along the new State road leading to Shawville.

Mrs. Charles Barger, long a resident of this vicinity and whose serious illness we noted in this letter, died on Wednesday evening at her home on Main street. She was aged about 74 years and was a sister of Mrs. A. C. Lansberry. Her husband, Mr. Charles Barger, died during the past summer.

A wreck of four empty steel cars on the N. Y. C. R. R. Friday morning near the U. S. Refractories Co. brick plant at Barrett tied up traffic for several hours. N. Y. C. passenger train No. 33, due at Woodland at 11:15 was run back to Philipsburg and run to Clearfield over the P. R. R. passing through here about one o'clock.

Hornet Wedding Cere-

On the wedding day, in B. , the bride and bridegroom are brought from opposite ends of the village to the spot where the ceremony is to be performed. They are made to sit on two bars of iron, that blessings as lasting and health as vigorous may attend the pair. A cigar and betel-leaf, prepared with the areca-nut, are next put into the hands of the bride and bridegroom. One of the priests then waves two fowls over the heads of the couple, and a long address to the Supreme Being calls down blessings upon the pair, and implores that pence and happiness may attend the union.

Fattening Beef Calves on Grain

More Skill Required Than Is Necessary in Preparing Older Animals.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

During recent years live stock markets have experienced a constantly increasing demand for well-fattened beef animals weighing from 800 to 1,200 pounds and this demand, says the United States Department of Agriculture, must necessarily be supplied by beeves from twelve to twenty months old. The fattening of this class of beeves requires more skill than is necessary in the production of animals marketed at more mature ages, on account of their tendency to grow rather than to fatten.

Various Phases of Problem.

The various phases of the problem of fattening calves for market is dealt with in Farmers' Bulletin 1416, Fattening Beef Calves, just issued by the United States Department of Agriculture, including discussions on how to procure calves to be fattened as yearlings, type of calves suitable for fattening, breeds suitable, importance of good cows and bulls, management of the farm breeding herd, differences in methods of feeding fall and spring calves, feeding the calf from birth to weaning time, dehorning, castration, vaccination, equipment and shelter, and marketing.

Unless the cows in the herd are exceptional milkers, calves intended for fat yearlings should be started on corn, kafir, milo, barley, wheat, or oats, when from four to six weeks old, says the bulletin. Nothing so stimulates the growth and early maturity as milk fresh from the dam, but in all cases calves should be fed liberally on grain for at least one month before weaning time. Every effort should be made to get the calves through the weaning period without loss of their baby fat. The grain ration should be increased so as to permit as little change in their rate of growth and fattening as possible.

Some feeders build "creeps" in the pastures or lots so that the calves can get their grain without disturbance by the cows. Creeps consist of small pens with openings which permit only the calves to enter. These openings may have rollers on each side to prevent bruising the calves.

Problem of Weaning.

Calves from heavy-milking cows should be weaned gradually. If they are running with the cows the weaning should be begun by keeping them up and allowing them to suck only twice each day for five or six days, after which they should be allowed to suck but once each day for a similar period. Then one day's sucking may be omitted, and later two days. Thus the entire weaning takes ten to fifteen days. The calves of cows giving little milk should be weaned abruptly by separating them as far as possible.

Fall calves should not be weaned until after the cows and calves are on grass. Spring calves should either be kept on grass after weaning in the fall or be given some succulent feed, such as silage. It is advisable to provide them with winter pasture, such as wheat, oats, rye, or barley, when soil and climatic conditions permit.

A copy of the bulletin may be secured, as long as the supply lasts, free upon request from the United States Department of Agriculture.

Hogging Down Corn Good Practice on All Farms

It usually is wiser and safer to turn pigs into standing corn gradually, so they will not contract digestive troubles from eating the immature corn. Some say immature corn causes cholera, which is not true, although it sometimes sets up digestive troubles that resemble cholera or else get the hog's system badly out of condition and invite attack by cholera. In a summary of several tests made at various midwestern experiment stations we get this general conclusion: In each of six trials one lot of pigs was fattened in the corn field and another lot fed corn on the ear in dry lot. All pigs got either tankage or middlings as supplement to the corn, which is absolutely essential. Some rape and a little rye was found in the standing corn also. The pigs eating the standing corn made slightly more rapid gains and made 100 pounds of pork on 6 per cent less concentrates than the pigs fed corn in the yard.

Unless weather is unfavorable the pigs will pick up the corn as clean as though it were husked. Rape or soy beans in the corn make an ideal supplement, or else give them access to alfalfa, clover or rape pasture in addition to the standing corn, if available. If the pigs get no supplementary green forage as noted, then be sure to feed some protein concentrate or skim milk.

Lifting Power of Air.

The lifting power of air is 0.165 pounds per one thousand cubic feet of air for each degree Fahrenheit above the temperature of the surrounding air. This weight is the total weight inclusive of the dead weight of the balloon.

It Happens Every Day

When you've been offered one job here and another one there—"if business is going better next month" — but when next month comes around, the openings get looking smaller and smaller—

And you realize that you'll have to stir around after something else or be left with "everything going out and nothing coming in" for the next two or three months, as you have been for the last—

But with all your stirring around, you can't seem to stir anything up, and you begin to fear that you've been caught in the undertow of this unemployment wave everybody's been talking about—

Until some friend throws you a life-line in the shape of a suggestion that you try a Situation Wanted ad in the Progress and see if that doesn't do some good—

And a couple of days after your ad—telling all about your experience and what you want to do—appears, you get letters from a number of firms asking you to come around for interviews—and you land a job with one of them—your kind of a job at a good salary—

That Puts The Joy Back Into Life!

Weekly Market Review.

By W. S. COUSINS
(I. N. S. Financial Editor.)

New York, Nov. 15.—All financial markets were affected this week by the speculative enthusiasm which followed immediately upon the sweeping away of political uncertainty and which has apparently not yet run its course. The stock market plunged rapidly forward as buying orders surged in from all sections of the country, sweeping aside an enormous volume of profit-taking sales and sending prices of high priced industrial and specialty stocks from 5 to 25 points above the highest levels of the year which in some cases means the whole history of the stocks.

Trading broadened out considerably this week as is evidenced by the succession of two million shares days and the increased number of different issues dealt in. In this latter item this week's performance beats all past records in the history of the stock exchange. For the time being the control of the stock market has been taken out of the hands of the small coterie of professional traders and now reposes with the millions of investors and speculators outside of Wall Street.

That the pace has been unusually fast is admitted on all sides, but there is little evidence that the market will provide a "runaway boom."

Profit-taking has already provided some healthy reactions.

The demand for railroad stocks continued this week, both the old line dividend shares and the stocks which are generally regarded as speculative sharing in the resultant advance in prices. Two factors are responsible for this heavy buying of rails, the prospect of more liberal dividend disbursements as a result of larger transportation business and the probable merging of strategic systems.

Bullish pools in specialty stocks took occasion to push forward the prices of their favorite issues to the discomfiture of the shorts, some of which were reported to be badly trapped. Oil and motor shares, equipment and coppers, textile and sugars were all participants in a moderate rally in prices as demand for leading stocks increased.

Money and industrial conditions were favorable. Money was offered freely in the call loan markets at 2 per cent. Operation of steel plants was reported at a higher percentage of capacity, with prices firming up and a better outlook was seen in the textile industry.

Grain and cotton markets shared in the general buoyancy, wheat prices on the Chicago Board of Trade and at Winnipeg and at Minneapolis soaring to new high levels for the year, an advance of about sixty cents a bushel from the same time last year. Sterling exchange reached a new 1924 high level around 4.64.

STOCK OPENINGS

New York, Nov. 15. (INS.)—The stock market was irregular at the opening today. Fractional declines were recorded in many of the active railroad and industrial stocks, including the oils. Shipping stocks were firm, with Marine Preferred up ½ at 43.

United States Steel opened unchanged at 114¼; Allied Chemical down 1⅛ at 74¾; Cast Iron Pipe down 1 at 141; American Can unchanged at 151; Bethlehem Steel down ¼ at 44⅝; Colorado Fuel up ⅞ at 41⅞; American Smelters down ⅛ at 84⅝; Studebaker unchanged at 89⅞; Baldwin unchanged at 124⅝; Anaconda Copper unchanged at 39; American Sugar down ¼ at 38¼.

Rails were steady. Baltimore and Ohio gained ¼ at 68⅞; New Haven up ⅝ at 28⅝; St. Paul preferred down ½ at 23¼; Southern Pacific up ½ at 102; New York Central down ¼ at 117⅛; Missouri Kansas and Texas up ⅜ at 25.

Cosden oil lost ⅜ at 28¾; Marland ⅛ at 39½; Pacific ⅜ at 54⅛; Standard Oil of California ⅛ at 61¾.

TWENTY-FIVE ARE MISSING

Helsingsfor, Nov. 15 (INS.)—Twenty-five workmen were missing and believed drowned and twenty-two were injured today when a steamer carrying sixty workers sank in the harbor here after a boiler explosion.

Getting Out of the Dishwashy.

Carol was the happy recipient of an invitation to a party, and after going to each member of the family and asking him or her to take her there and in each instance being told a good reason why they couldn't do so, she mournfully turned to me and said: "Mother, write a letter and tell them it's the wrong day."

Conclusive.

"Was that your wife I saw you with the other evening, heading for the train?" "My wife was with me one evening and the next I happened to meet a young lady who lives out at our station. Don't know which—by the way, who was carrying the parcels?" "You were, of course." "Oh, that was Miss Cutely you saw." —Philadelphia Ledger.

That Helps Some.

The name cockroach comes from the Spanish cucaracha, says Nature Magazine. It forms its own reserves so that only one species is apt to infest a given section at the same time. There is comfort in that.

What Club Meant to Him.

Bobbie, a four-year-old, was invited to go with his mother to the Mother's club. He showed no great desire to go and, after his mother had repeatedly told him that she wanted him to go with her, said with a great show of resignation: "Well, I s'pose I'll have to, and let them hit me all they want to."

And the Class Smiled.

I was teaching a class of senior boys and girls in high school. One boy annoyed me a great deal by putting his arm around the boy next to him and lopping over in a spineless fashion. At the end of my patience one day I exclaimed: "Donald, if you can't keep your arms where they belong you'll have to sit here beside me." —Exchange.

Get Back on Right Track.

No matter how much you pitch up a mistake, it won't change its nature! Better right it, and go back to the place where you left the right track! You'll save time, and better still, you'll save heart aches. This is an especially good plan for a class to follow.—Exchange.

Derivation of "London."

The derivation of the name "London" is obscure. Some authorities believe it to be a combination of the old British words "lyn," meaning "lake" and "din" meaning "town," possibly because until recent times the southern side of the river Thames was practically a swamp.

PENNSY-GRAMS

Jeannette, Nov. 15. (INS.)—James Bowman is suffering from lockjaw here as a sequel of having been hit by an automobile, when his hand was injured. He is said to be in a critical condition.

York, Pa., Nov. 15 (INS.)—Mrs. Cassandra Stein, 102, is dead here after an illness of about six months. Until the time of her illness Mrs. Stein smoked tobacco every day. She is survived by 137 direct descendants.

Pittsburgh, Nov. 15 (INS.)—Patrick J. McDonough, is very much alive today after he came home yesterday just in time to stop his own funeral. Ray B. McDonough, "Pat's" brother identified a body at the county morgue last Tuesday as that of his relative, who had been missing for several days. Last night Patrick walked into his home to find himself dead and his family in mourning. His body was returned to the morgue.

Harrisburg, Nov. 15 (INS.)—A man giving his name as Harold Bowman, 17, of Shamokin, is under arrest here today because he lost his way to Baltimore and consulted a policeman. Bowman after a few questions by the officer admitted he had stolen the auto he was driving to see his girl in Baltimore." The car was taken to the police station where William Smith, of Hummelstown, was just reporting the theft of his auto. He will be given a hearing this after noon.

Philadelphia, Nov. 14 (INS.)—Judge Stern in Quarter Sessions court today handed down an order transferring Mrs. Harvey Willow, of Snyder county, convicted with Ralph Shadel for the murder of her husband, to the Lackawanna county jail, at Scranton from the Eeastern penitentiary here.

The order was issued despite the fact that the woman has not been brought here from Snyder county on petition of Warden John C. Groome who asked it on the ground that the penitentiary has no woman prisoners. The order does not affect the transfer of Shadel here.

Hark, Hark, the Lark!

A little daughter of the slums, on her first day in the country, saw a lark mount the sky, high in air, pouring forth its heavenly music. She listened a moment, then she ran to the matron. "Oh, Miss May," she said, "there's a sparrow up there, and he can't git up and he can't git down, and he ain't doin' a thing but holler about it."

The Human Race.

WIDOW OF J. P. MORGAN DIES

New York, Nov. 17. (NS.)—Mrs. Frances F. Morgan, widow of J. P. Morgan, died at her home at Highland Falls, N. Y., early today according to advices received here. She had been ill for some time.

VICTIM OF PNEUMONIA

Little Billy Richards, son of John Richards, passed away Saturday night at 10:30 after a two weeks' illness of pleuro-pneumonia. The funeral will be held at the home at 615 William street at 2:00 Tuesday afternoon. Burial at Glen Richey.

MRS. JOSEPH SWATSWORTH

Mrs. Rosie Rowles Swatsworth, wife of Joseph Swatsworth, of Lawrence township, who passed away at the Clearfield hospital on Thursday night last, was buried Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The funeral services were conducted at her late home by Rev. E. Roy Hauser, of St. John's Lutheran Church, and were attended by a large number of the friends of the family.

Mrs. Swartsworth, who was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Rowles, formerly of Sanborn, was 42 years of age, and is survived by her husband and the following children: Lulu, Paul, Charlotte, Preston and Sherman. Her parents also survive. Interment was made in Hillcrest cemetery.

Defense Of Lamberton And Davis Opens Today Before Judge Thompson

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 17. (INS.)—The defense of Chess Lamberton, a member of the directorate of the Lamberton National Bank and the Franklin Manufacturing Company, Franklin, Pa., and Elmer Davis, a former treasurer of the manufacturing firm opened today before federal Judge W. H. Thompson.

Lamberton and Davis are accused by Walter Miles, an operative of the Internal Revenue Department, of reducing the company's income tax.

William Parker, chief counsel for the defense, announced that he would endeavor to show that the reduction of the tax was made after Miles had been shown certain depreciation of the company's property which he had overlooked in his original survey.

The $2,300, held by the Lamberton bank on notes bearing Mile's name, was to be explained by testimony to be presented today, Parker said.

No Prestige for Groom.

Not yet all the rough slams, even in the dictionary. "Groom" is defined as "one who takes care of horses," or "one just married." But a bride is just a bride and isn't advertised anything less complimentary.—Philadelphia Retail Ledger.

Not in Weather Bureau's Sphere.

The science of the weather and the atmosphere is called meteorology, and has very little to do with astronomy. Yet the public almost invariably confuses meteorologists with astronomers and calls upon the weather bureau for information about comets, sunspots, eclipses and the calendar.

Weddings

WEDDINGS IN TRINITY CHURCH

The pastor, Rev. Horace Lincoln Jacobs, married with the ring ceremony, on Monday, October 13, David Hamilton Stinson, of Revloc, Pa., and Nellie Margretta Naugle, of Cramer, Pa.

Wednesday, October 15, Van Buren Waite, of Altoona, Pa., and Martha Isabel Shively, of Juniata, Pa.

Wednesday November 12, Fredrick George Lieder and Helen Rosalind Mandeville, both of DuBois, Pa.

The Rev. D. N. Miller, of Harrisburg, Pa., married on Monday, Nov. 10, Roy James Boyd and Evelyn Holden, both of West Decatur, Pa.

GIFTS OF $157,614 TO GROVE CITY COLLEGE

Grove City, Pa., Nov. 16.—At the jubilee celebration Saturday night in the college gymnasium more than two thousand students and citizens celebrated the completion of the four days drive for additional endowment. Of this sum the students pledged $31,425, the faculty $16,522, the various factories in the town $16,184, and the various clubs and organizations as follows: American Legion $125, Civic Club $625, Kiwanis $500, Rotary Club $500, Comemrcial Club $500, Boy Scouts $500, Knights of Pythias $250, Odd Fellows $250, Sons of Italy $250, Catholic Ladies Aid $50, Ladies of Macabees $25, Daughters of Veterans $25, Grove City Shrine $1000, Eastern Star $500, Daughters of American Revolution $200, Ku Klux Klan $1000.

This total is $57,614 above the goal aimed at. When the figures were announced the workers formed for a snake dance and cavorted about amidst the blare of the band and the shouting from two thousand throats.

F. R. Babcock, president of the board of trustees, pledged that the trustees would add a quarter of a million dollars to the sum raised by the town and students. Albert C. Leslie, also of Pittsburgh and president of the Alumni Association, pledged the alumni for $125,000. Dr. Milton W. Brown, the director of the campaign, said he would pledge for the state the raising of the balance needed. The campaign will be immediately launched among the alumni and trustees for the full attainment of the goal of $750,000.

Repulsed Suitor Shoots Into Jeering Crowd; Boy, 17, Is Shot To Death

Hanover, Pa., oNv. 17. (INS.)—A charge of murder will be lodged today against Charles E. Frederick Wilkinson, 27, of Fayetteville, who is alleged to have fired into a crowd of young men at a dance here Saturday night, killing Francis E. Blettner, 17, of Pennville, after the crowd jeered because Wilkinson had been snubbed by the girl he admired.

Wilkinson was arrested at his home shortly after the shooting.

Police say the shot was fired from an auto as Wilkinson and his brother drove away after a girl refused their offer to accompany her home, causing a group of boys to sneer.

Bellefonte Flying Field To Be Main Night Stop

Chicago nine hours later (6 a. m.) for distribution with the first regular delivery. Night mail will leave the Chicago air terminal at 9 p. m., reaching New York eight hours later (6 a. m.) also for the day's first delivery. Due to prevailing winds, the westward flight will be one hour longer.

Ounce To Cost Eight Cents

Postal rates will be eight cents an ounce—the present air mail rate for zone one, which includes Chicago. In the meantime, the trans-continental service will continue on the slhedule inaugurated last July 1, with departures from the established terminals at New York and San Francisco each morning.

Hadley Field, the new night service terminal, is about fifty minutes by train and truck from the New York general post office. It was chosen primarily because it was inland and free from the fogs which prevailed over Long Island fields. It will be surrounded by boundary lights, will have a five-plane hangar, radio masts, a 500,000,000 candle-power beacon with 150 mile range, and flood lights with equal power.

Bellefonte To Be Main Station

Bellefonte, Pa., 220 miles from New York, will become a main field, similarly lighted. Intervening will be twenty-two emergency fields, with 5,000,000 candle-power beacons, hangars, personnel and equipment. Several of these emergency fields will be in the highest passes of the Alleghenies.

The number of airplanes in service between here and Chicago will be increased to thirty-eight, including spare machines. Eleven pilots now in the trans-continental service have been assigned to the over-night route. At present the department has ninety four airplanes in the New York-San Francisco service.

Extension of night flying on the trans-continental route eastward from Chicago to Cleveland and westward from Cheyenne to Rock Springs was revealed by Mr. Egge as a necessity enforced by the shortening of the days as winter approached.

DR. J. GEORGE BECHT VERY ILL

Philadelphia, Nov. 17. (INS.)—The condition of Dr. J. George Becht, state superintendent of public instruction, was reported as serious today by physicians at University hospital where he has been undergoing treatment for a month for nervous trouble.

Lightning Cleanses the Air.

Lightning is extremely healthful, asserts a scientist who has made that his life study. He does not mean that it is healthful to the person lightning strikes. What he means is this: "Lightning produces nitric acid and cleans the whole atmosphere of noxious exhalations." Had there never been a flash if lightning upon this earth in all the years of its existence the air now would be so foul that living would be impossible, some scientists say.

PENNSY-GRAMS

Harrisburg, Nov. 17. (INS.)—Selection of a jury was to begin today in the trial of Dr. Cornelius M. Dailey, prominent local physician, who is indicted on a charge of murder in connection with the death of Mrs. Anna Manbeck.

Dr. Dailey staggered from his office on Sunday morning, June 1, with a bullet wound in his right lung. He told neighbors Mrs. Manbeck shot him and then killed herself. She was found dead in the office.

An investigation disclosed several discrepancies in the doctor's story and he was arrested. He was in the hospital until a month ago.

Philadelphia, Nov. 17. (INS.)—Thomas Subers, 40, was seriously injured and three companions slightly injured when their automobile crashed into a train of stalled freight cars here last night. Subers received a fractured skull, concussion of the brain and internal injuries.

Philadelphia, Nov. 17. (INS.)—A fleet of 52 motor trucks yesterday moved more than $500,000,000 in cash and negotiable securities through the streets of Philadelphia. The money represented the assets of the Pennsylvania Company for Insurances on Lives and Granting Annuities, and was being moved to the new quarters of the company.

Harrisburg, Pa., Nov. 17 INS.)—The Rev. Charles R. Zanhizer 1515 Homewood ave., Pittsburgh has been appointed to the Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary, the governor's office announced today.

J. R. MacFarlane, Westinghouse building was also appointed a member of the Osteopathic Examining board.

New Castle, Pa., Nov. 17 INS.)—Yeggmen blew open the safe at the Frew Furniture Company over the week end and escaped with $700 in cash, it was discovered today.

New Castle, Pa., Nov. 17 (INS.)—Jacob A. Sipe, 103 years of age and the oldest man in this county is dead at his home in Fayette, Pa., near here.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Putman and three little daughters, Louise, Ruth, and Margaret, of Altoona, were guests on Sunday at the homes of Mrs. Alfred Graham and Mrs. Lola Merrey.

Mrs. Jack Wolveran of Spring Mills spent yesterday with her aunt, Mrs. Harrison Dukeman on Tenth street.

Buick Continues its Leadership

For the seventh consecutive year Buick has first choice of space at the National Automobile Shows. This signal honor is awarded annually by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce to the manufacturer-member having the largest volume of business for the preceding twelve months.

In winning and in maintaining this enviable position year after year, Buick has demonstrated conclusively that the true value of any automobile is reflected in the consistency with which the public buys it.

Since the introduction of the 1925 Buick models, public patronage has increased to an even greater degree.

A tribute to the Buick engineering skill and manufacturing ability that have provided newer and better Buick cars without departing in any way from the fundamentals of power, economy and dependability for which all Buicks have been famous.

More Democratic strife, a renewal of the warfare of Madison Square Garden, is in prospect as the McAdoo and Al Smith forces prepare to wage a bitter struggle for control of the Democratic national committee when it meets in mid-winter to select a national chairman to succeed Clem Shaver. Both McAdoo and Al Smith, bitter rivals in the 1924 convention, are expected to again seek the Democratic presidential nomination four years hence. Control of the national committee is important to their future political aspirations. Smith is determined that McAdoo shall not again capture the organization, and McAdoo's supporters will be just as determined in their effort to prevent control going to the Tammany governor.

Young animals, and presumably children as well, grow more rapidly in rooms with walls painted with light, cheerful colors than they do in dark-painted apartments. Such is the conclusion of Dr. H. A. Gardner, of the research laboratory of the Paint Manufacturers' Association, as the result of recent experiments with guinea pigs, says Popular Science Monthly. His experiments show that pale blue, white and light tan were most conducive to rapid growth.

The Philadelphia Record, Philadelphia's only Democratic daily, appears to agree with our diagnosis of the Democratic party. Here is the Record's idea of the Coolidge landslide and the future of the party:

"The first sensation of any loyal Democrat upon receipt of Tuesday night's election returns must have been one of profound despondency. It was not the sense of defeat that weighed so heavily, but the sense of hopelessness. If with a candidate of Mr. Davis' eminent fitness, with principles such as he stood for, and with such conspicuous elements of weakness in the position of the opposition, the Democratic party could not win, under what conceivable circumstances could it hope successfully to appeal to the voters in the future?"

Forest fires are destructive. The fire of 1923 swept over all but about 15 acres of the 4400 acres of woodland owned by Harvey Bowers of Punxsutawney, located on the mountains 12 miles north of town and now Mr. Bowers is placing a saw mill on the tract to complete the destruction and will cut all the jack pine, chestnut and other woods damaged by the fire.

Betty Lane Shepherd, Eminent Soprano, Will Sing Here Nov. 18th

Betty Lane Shepherd, the eminent soprano, assisted by Jacques Glockner, 'cellist, will be heard in one of the outstanding recitals of the season at the Clearfield Auditorium on the evening of November 18th.

Miss Shepherd is one of the finest sopranos on the concert stage. Her voice is rich and talented of genuine soprano quality. With this unusually beautiful voice is linked a personality rarely met with and these qualities combined with splendid musicianship make Miss Shepherd a decided favorite in concert fields.

Mr. Glockner is an artist of considerable reputation and altogether the program is certain to appeal to all the music lovers of Clearfield.

Admitance will be by complimentary tickets only, which may be secured from Sheeder's Music House. Adv.

ARE YOU A WORLD WAR VETERAN? DO YOU WANT YOUR BONUS?

1. If you are a World War Veteran and you want your bonus, please make application at once. Don't delay for delays means a loss of money to you. Make out your appplication today while this request is fresh in your mind. The War Department is prepared to handle 30,000 applications a day. Let them have yours tomorrow.

2. If you do not want the Bonus and do not wish to make application, please notify the Adjutant General, Washington, D. C., telling him that you do not want the bonus. We ask you to do this in order that the War Department may know how many veterans intend to apply and that they can thereby keep their force at full work until the work is done. Delay means more expense to the taxpayer.

3. If there has been some error in your application and it has been returned to you, please make the correction and send it in today. If there is something that you do not understand and which you wish to explain, apply to the nearest recruiting office of the Army, Navy, Marines, the American Legion Post, the Veterans' Bureau or the Adjutant General.

4. Let us hear from you and please do one of the three (3) things stated above.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH NOTES

In spite of the bad weather in the evening the services of yesterday were exceptionally well attended and of deep spiritual interest. The morning sermon was on "Blessings" with promise "I Will Bless Thee" coupled with the complementary promise "I will make thee a blessing." The evening sermon was on the theme "When He Cometh" and dealt with the joys of His visible presence.

The meeting of the Philathea Class for Tuesday evening is postponed one week and will meet on the 25th. Mrs McPherson and Mrs. Rogers, hostesses. The mid week service Wednesday at 7:30.

Woman's Missionary Society meeting at the church Thursday afternoon at 2:00.

World Wide Guild Girls meet Thursday evening at the parsonage.

Bible Class Friday evening at 7:00

CHURCHES

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH NOTES

The Sabbath School at the Reedsville Chapel is having a contest for new members, so far the Blue team or the girls are in the lead, we want you if you are not attending any other school on Sabbath to join us.

The morning worship at the church we rejoice in welcoming the vistors and strangers. The message of the sermon was on the theme "And God Remembered Noah." The musical numbers rendered by the members of the choir and Mrs. Bay, the organist were of great power and selection. The evening worship was the second in this series of object sermons, on the theme of "The Blood of Christ." Through the assistance of one of the members the message was brought out more clearly, in proving the blood of Christ cleanseth from all sin.

Tonight at 7:30 the Westminster Guilt girls will meet to sew in the Church.

Tomorrow evening the Ladies' Aid of Reedsville will sew in the Chapel. Every member urged to be present.

Wednesday evening the mid-week prayer service at 7:30.

Thursday evening the November Missinary luncheon and meeting will be held. Every woman in the Church most cordially invited. Luncheon served at 1 O'clock.

Thursday evening the prayer and praise service at the Reedsville Chapel. Mr. Peter Smith will have charge of this service.

Saturday, the annual Westminster Guild Bazaar in the main room of the Sabbath School from two until nine p. m. Every one come and buy.

W. C. T. U. MEETING

The regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held Friday evening at the home of Mrs. George Welch, with a representative number of members present. Meeting opened with scripture reading by the President, the Lord's Prayer and singing the Consecration Song by the members.

"Gain in the Dry Vote in Congress" was read by Mrs. Runk. "Prohibition becoming more efficient every day," was read by Mrs. Welch, followed by "Write it on the sky," one of the latest achievements, read by Mrs. Iames. Even an East Indian Woman Ruler has come out for Prohibition; which, of course, insures it wonderful impetus in that benighted land.

A report of Miss Rhodes, National SuperIntendent of Soldiers and Sailors, was read giving the large amount of work done, and the great influence for good accomplished in her department. Mrs. Woodward read "Why I am an American." Considerable discussion on Americanization took place. Respect those who fail to be American.

Words of sympathy were expressed to Mrs. Howard in the loss of her mother, Mrs. Deleplane, of Altoona.

"The Land I Live In," the poem making it applicable to all, regardless of the land of their birth, was read by Mrs. Merry.

The National Jubilee Convention, now in session at Chicago, should find a cleaner city, as one of the readings told of Mayor Devose putting 6000 saloons out of business in that city in 1923.

Excellent refreshments were served during the social time.

TRINITY CHURCH ITEMS

Yesterday was a full and encouraging day. The church school was in advance in both attendance and offering. And that study of Matthew 16: 13-20 on the divergent opinions about Jesus held the interest of every class. Next Wednesday evening the board meets under very peculiar conditions of business.

Both morning and evening the music was helpful. The duet by Elisha Davis and Miss Aileen Smith was well sung. Miss Chase's piano selection with organ accompaniment the people heard with pleasure.

Holy Communion featured the day, in a very fastening spirit. Reception of members added three by transfer and five to the 30 that were admitted to membership on Wednesday night, November 12. The events associated with the reception of the several groups will not be forgotten by the congregations.

This week's events: Wednesday, mid-week congregational meeting a special period. Thursday all day, bazaar and rummage sale, with cafeteria, extensive bill of eats, 11 to 2 and 5 to 7. Friday, 3:45, young people will meet.

Fiftieth Golden Jubilee of The National W.C.T.U.

THE National Woman's Christian Temperance Union is observing its fiftieth golden jubilee celebration at Medinah Temple, Chicago, Nov. 14-19, with delegates and visitors from all over the world in attendance.

Miss Anna A. Gordon, world and national president of the white ribboners, in her jubilee message included outstanding events in the organization's history in its relation to the temperance movement and suggested a program for progressive future activity.

Other noted speakers include Mabel Walker Willebrandt, U. S. assistant attorney general, Mrs. Catherine Waugh McCulloch, Mrs. Gifford Pinchot and Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt.

An interesting feature, "Pageant Pictures of Fifty Years," given at Medinah Temple under the direction of Pearle Allen-Smith, of the faculty of the School of Speech, Northwestern University, where Frances E. Willard was the first dean of women, has features including members of the Metropolitan Opera Co., as soloist, trumpeters from the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, and a chorus of ninety voices.

The "do-everything" policy of the National W. C. T. U. is shown by a series of four one-hour periods during morning sessions, when all of the twenty-six departments of work give brief dramatic presentations of their contributions to community service.

The address of Mrs. Frances P. Parks, national corresponding secretary, shows how the W. C. T. U. has greatly increased its membership during the past five years. Mrs. Margaret C. Munns, national treasurer, sets forth the way the million dollar jubilee fund was secured and how it is being administered for benefit the country as a whole.

Mrs. Ella A. Boole, vice-president at large, nationally known for her strategic leadership in New York State, where she is president of their organization, shares the honors of presiding at alternate sessions of the convention, with Miss Gordon.

Headquarters are at Hotel La Salle.

NEXT YEAR

Colonel Leonard P. Ayres, a distinguished American banker, makes this bold forecast for the year 1925, based not on the stars or on politics or on hope, but on a scientific study of economic conditions:

"Early in 1925 interest rates will be low with a rising tendency.

"Bond prices will rise, reach their peak and start to turn downward.

"Stock prices will rise, reach a peak and start downward.

"It will be a year of large volume of building construction, but not record breaking, not like 1923 or 1924.

"Building costs will remain firm.

"The volume of industrial employment will increase.

"The trend of wages will improve.

"The cost of living will rise.

"The volume of iron and steel production will be much greater than in 1924.

"The aggregate output of truck and passenger automobiles will approximate 3,600,000."

Here is something for every American, whether banker, merchant, professional man, manufacturer, artisan or farmer, to put in his pipe and smoke. There is no visible economic reason for "being a bear on America" as far as the immediate future is concerned. And the stage seems set for a considerable period of sound prosperity.

Only two things may interfere. One is weather. Colonel Ayres says he has based his forecast on normal weather, although weather sharps have been predicting a cold winter and summer. The other thing is man's own meddling with his economic destiny, through foolish legislation and other ways. But so good are fundamental conditions that it will take a lot of bad weather and bad laws to spoil the country's manifest destiny for next year.

NO BILLBOARDS IN IOWA

One more state has joined the group of commonwealths banning billboards on public highways. A law to this end has just become effective in Iowa and has received the approval of the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

Although this action meets the demands of citizens who would banish billboards for esthetic reasons, it was undertaken as a practical public safety measure. It was found that a confusion of advertising signs along many highways obscured the official signs placed to warn of dangerous turns and crossings or to give directions for the traveler.

It is interesting to find that real estate men—who have not been wholly innocent in this matter, themselves—taking up the billboard prohibition movement. They now say that the view from any highway does not belong solely to the individual who happens to own that bit of property—it is a community possession, and as such must be preserved for the enjoyment of all who pass that way. Hence, down with the obstructing billboards.

Whatever the declared purpose animating any billboard antagonist, it is cheering to the general public to find that all points of view are tending to the same desirable end. Even large billboard advertisers, such as the Standard Oil Company, a leading tire company and a flour company, have joined the procession by voluntarily removing many of their signs.

In the Courts

'Squire J. W. Laing and Constable Aaron Peacock, of Coalport, were each held in $1000 bail for their appearance at December term of criminal court on three separate charges of extortion and malefeasance in office. The information on which these officers are charged with violating the law was made before 'Squire James W Ruffner, of Madera, on information made by residents of the Coalport section, who allege a series of mistreatments by the 'Squire and his Constable.

In the first case Harry Senect and Dan Stalpin, charge that on May 17, 1924, the home of Pete Sineck, where they boarded, was raided and Sineck arrested for violation of the liquor law, and that four boarders in the house, including the plaintiffs were arrested and after being placed in the lockup were liberated on payment of $15 each to 'Squire Laing.

Geo. Sustek and John Zatek make a similar charge, alleging they were arrested on May 9 and fined $6.70 and $8.20 for violating the liquor law.

Helen Ragana and Costil Grunmo make a similar charge, the latter claiming a boarder in her home was found with a bottle of liquor and while he was placed in the lockup was required to pay $17 to 'Squire Laing at a hearing. She said she gave the 'Squire $25 and when the boarder admitted the whiskey was his, her husband was given $8.00 back and the 'Squire retained the balance.

'Squire Laing and Constable Peacock have been making a "clean up" of their bailiwick and there is a great deal of feeling against them by those who have felt the strong arm of the law, together with their friends.

Ferdinand Crockenberg a 17-year old Wayne county boy, who was no doubt the victim of a bootlegging ring, paid the penalty this morning for allowing himself to be impressed into the rum running game. Young Crockenberg, a nice appearing lad, was picked up by the State Police near Luthersburg one night in October, while driving a truck containing 168 quarts of high power hootch, which had been consigned from Scranton to Punxsutawney people. We don't know who of Punxsutawney's thirsty the liquor was enrout to, but we do know one Punxsyite who wasn't to get any. That fellow was Attorney Charley Margiotti He asked the boy who was to get the liquor at Punxsy and he said he did not know. Then Margiotti asked him if he, the attorney was to get it and he again replied in the negative. There were no other Punxsy people in court so we failed to learn the names of any more persons who were not going to get any of the liquor they didn't get.

Judge Chase sentenced Crockenberg to pay a fine of $200 and costs and serve 10 months in the county jail, where he had been since October 13th.

before it. Next is repeal of the Esch-Cummins transportation act. The third is enactment of constitutional amendment by which congress by a two thirds vote may override the decisions of the supreme court.

As in the past the convention is expected to pass resolutions denouncing the Ku Klux Klan and opposing American recognition of Soviet Russia. These may produce fights, especially the latter because of recognition of Russia by Great Britain and France.

Today's session was devoted chiefly to routine, welcome speeches and presentation of the executive council's annual report, which did not include the recommendations of politics. A joint session with delegations of the Mexican Federation of Labor, meeting across the Rio Grande in Juarez, also was a feature. American delegations tomorrow will go to Juarez for a joint meeting.

Progress Editorials for Women

WHITE HOUSE VS. GREEN HOUSE

By FLORENCE DAVIES

The New York Times doesn't want the defeated Democratic caindidate to feel too badly.

Even if Mr. Coolidge did retain the White House, remarks the Times, Mr. Davis wins first place in the Green House—having just taken a first prize at a chrysanthemum show.

The Times writes in jesting mood. But we women have the courage to be serious about the matter.

Perhaps, after all, Mr. Davis is a whole lot better off with the prize he drew, than if he had the one he went after.

Winning the first place in the White House would certainly have made Mr. Davis a whole lot of work. But getting the first prize at a chrysanthemum show, while it made the gardener some work, is a lot more fun.

Think of the grief attached to being a premier or a president or a king.

Think of the joy of raising the biggest chrysanthemum.

The Times treats the matter lightly. We take it quite seriously. For we women know that the compensations of life are often to be found in just such matters as these.

We would even be willing to wager that whereas a serious person would declare the winning of a prize at a flower show is only a pinprick as compared to a presidential election, Mr. Davis took a pleasure in it which was out of all proportion to the seriousness of the event.

That is why it is a good thing to have chrysanthemums or white hyacinths, or a collection of etchings, or whatever you may choose as a means of diversion in your life.

They come much nearer to being the real things than we ourselves suppose.

Have you lost the election, failed in business, had a manuscript returned? What boots it, if the bulbs in your window garden are coming on well, if you had a fine session with a friend at dinner, if your game of golf is on the mend? It's a great thing to have sense enough to raise chrysanthemums or grow hyacinths, so that when purely tiresome matters like elections go against one, there will still be sweet rewards in the seemingly smaller but in our hearts the more important matters of everyday life.

Perhaps if all the values were in and tabulated, and the balance sheet drawn, the bigest chrysanthemum would more nearly compensate for a lost election than Mr. Davis suspects.

MASONIC CHOIR VISITS CURWENSVILLE

The Royal Blue Hospitalliers Choir composed of Masons from the Clearfield bodies, journeyed to Curwensville twenty four strong last evening to sing at the Methodist Episcopal church there. The choir in its new vestments made a very pleasing appearance and the performance was very much appreciated by the capacity audience which greeted it. Rev. Adams preached a very effective and instructive sermon which was appreciated by the choir members as much as the Reverend appreciated the choir.

Features of the service were the illumination of the cross to the accompaniment of "In the Cross of Christ I Glory," a beautiful spectacle in a rich setting. The solo by Harold Pearson of Philipsburg was very much enjoyed. Mr. Pearson possesses a rich barytone voice over which he exercises skilful control. The choir sang two anthems arranged for male voices.

Next Sunday the choir goes to Brookville where they will participate in a Masonic service at the Methodist church.

NUMETAL WEATHERSTRIP Would Have Kept Out That Wind Yesterday Afternoon and Evening

Winter dropped down on us like a flash yesterday afternoon. And that cold wind found every opening in your home. Windows rattled, you had to fire the furnace harder, the wind came in thru and around the window and door casings.

If your home had been equipped with NUMETAL WEATHERSTRIP you would have been sitting pretty, not worrying about the wind at all.

Now, colder weather is to come. Let us show you about these NUMETAL WEATHERSTRIPS and show you that we can give you a warmer, non-rattling, cozier home for a very slight outlay of money.

GYM CLASS FOR EVERONE

If there is a man, woman, boy or l in Clearfield this winter, and pecially if he or she is a member the Y. M C. A. who doesn't "keep " with the training the gymnasium d swimming pool affords, it will t be the fault of the Physical De- rtment of the "Y". There is a class r everyone. The boys and girls sses are already well organized d with the coming of cold weather e men's and women's classes will crease rapidly. There is a large sortment of activities which will ude "hobbies" for all. Health ills, apparatus work, volley ball, ket ball, baseball, miscellaneous mes and contests, swimming, div- g, etc. Tuesday, Thursday and Sat- urday afternoons at 5 o'clock seem to be the most popular periods for the Business Men. Tuesday until 6 and Friday all day include the time for women and girls, while the young men over 17 meet for gym work on Monday at 8 o'clock and Thursday at 8:15.

The High School girl's class will be held an hour earlier starting tomorrow. Gym at 3:15 and swim at 4:15.

The Business Boys finished their world's baseball series last Thursday with the result about the same as the real thing. They each had 3 and 3, then Washington came across in the final game and won out.

The Thanksgiving Day Relay Race for boys over 16 is meeting with fine response by the local churches. In a few days many a young man will be seen training on the main streets in his runnin' togs.

The Junior and Interemdiate natators are busy these days getting in shape for their annual swimming class on Thanksgiving night.

Speaking of Puppies

Well, here's a new football distinction. Freshman Gary of Minnesota claims to have the biggest pair of dogs, which is campus Latin for feet, in the entire football world. Gary wears a size 14. E width When Gary picks his immense bow-wows up and lays them down the resultant clatter is strongly reminiscent of fire horses responding to a three-alarm blaze.

BANKERT STILL GREATEST SCORER

New York, Nov. 17. (INS.)—Benkart, of Rutgers, continued to lead the collegiate scorers in eastern football as a result of Saturday's game but Tryon of Colgate made an appreciable gain. The former's total today was 94 points, Tryon having 89. Other leaders included McBride, Syracuse 74; Hazel, Rutgers, 72; Koppisch, Columbia, 72; Bruder, West Virginia, 71; Berrel, Muhlenberg, 66; Kruez, Penn, 60, and Oberlander, Dartmouth, 60.

13 IS AN UNLUCKY NUMBER FOR C. H. S. FINE FOR WINDBER

Clearfield High got a fine taste of football weather Saturday. The taste was sweet for about ten minutes of the first period but from then on the weather became freaky and tempestuous when Windber rolled up 13 points. Windber's wonderful defensive team that is holding all teams, has a very poor offensive, but they managed to total 13 points to win.

This marked the ending of the conference for the second year for Clearfield and in that time the Red and Black colors never topped the mat but dragged in the dust seven times in the same number of games. The first year the Reed team lost all of the three games, losing 35-0 to Windber, the champs; 54-7 to Lock Haven, and 6-0 to Altoona. Windber won the title but was forced to give it up on a technical violation of the eligibility rule. Clearfield also lost to Huntingdon but later in the season the conference heads annulled the Huntingdon games. This season Lock Haven's team wreckers won the title, winning Saturday from Johnstown 7-0 for an unbroken series of victories. In all probability Lock Haven will meet the eastern conference representative in a post-season game.

Lock Haven smothered all oppoosition in the conference, tramping Clearfield 73 to 26. The 26 points were the most scored on the loggers this season and they have caused much amusing comment. The North American states that the Lock Haven second stringers were in when Clearfield scored, but they fail to say that the only time their second stringers were present was when Clearfield scored in the last period Lock Haven couldn't diagnose it any farther, but here it is: When Clearfield's backfield, plus the line play, gets to playing their real game Lock Haven or any other team will suffer a little ridiculing like Lock Haven got in that first period when the score was Clearfield 20, Lock Haven, 12. This was the only time during the season when the "loggers" were on the short end of the string.

As things now stand it looks as tho the local team had better step on it or get in a little competition not so strong and do as most of the nearby teams do, pick on the "pigeons."

Saturday's Games.

Lock Haven grid cyclone hit Johnstown Saturday and left a 7-0 path. The Johnnies' titular hopes and championship aspirations were swept in the gale and once more the Azure and Black is at half mast.

The Johnnies held Coach Wolfe's team for three long periods then the superiority of the loggers began to show and they went to the front. Lock Haven attained such speed in the last period that they became real flyers and their first aerial attempt, from Kunes to Rathgeber, put the ball within striking distance of the goal, and on the next play Grier scored a touch down, and a minute later he added the seventh point by the placement route. Immediately after the game Lock Haven's rooters "took" Johnstown and "held" it till late last evening with all types of activity.

DuBois ran wild against Big Run and won 69-0. For the second time in two weeks they neared the century mark in points while their opponents were scoreless. The Armstrong team won 83-0 from Johnsonburg last Saturday.

Although nothing much can be taken from comparative scores, think of this: Punxsy beat Big Run, 15-0; DuBois lost to Punxsy, 6-5, and now DuBois defeats Big Run, 69-0. Next Saturday they come to Clearfield, but it is hoped the local team will not be such an easy mark as Big Run and Johnsonburg.

* * *

Curwensville High triumphed 26-7 over Portage at the upriver town in a hard fought contest. Portage had one of the best coached teams ever seen in Curwensville, but they lacked the weight and age to round out their system. They had all types of plays but got their score by a line plunging attack.

* * *

Altoona is going from bad to worse. They were held to a 6-6 tie by the cocky Tyrone eleven. Altoona opened the season like a young gardener, having everything easy till the weeds came, then they let the weeds go. Injuries helped down them when Wicker and Hess, stars in their positions, were sent to the hospital badly injured.

Big Bill Kline of DuBois is going to put the "third rate" city on the map in times to come. Bill, although still an undergrad at Yale, is doing his share for the New Haven institution, being substituted in most every game and showing a type of play that is hard to deny a place on the varsity.

Tree Grows From Rock.

Trees growing out of the top of a cliff of pure sandstone are seen near the town of Slack, Wyo. It might seem that even scrub pine would have something of a struggle for existence if it had nothing better than infertile sand to grow in, but to make a good living by sending down their roots into mere cracks in the standstone is worse yet. Moreover these pine trees are growing in a semi-desert region where months go by without any rainfall whatever and where the rainfall for the entire year is not more than the eastern part of the United States receives during the summer.

Line Worth Remembering

This helpful line, by Sir Philip Sidney, is hard to beat: "Fear is more pain than is the pain it fears." If we can get out of the habit of being fearful, there is little we cannot conquer. Courage makes life worth while.

CAPITAL POLITICIANS BOW TO WILL OF TEDDY ROOSEVELT'S DAUGHTER

BY CHARLES P. STEWART
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.— Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth is considered the most influential individual, politically, in Washington today.

Not being a public character, though, like her father, she has not the sort of influence with the mass of voters he had, but doubtless she could obtain it if she chose.

But that is not her method.

Mrs. Longworth pulls the strings and when she pulls them she gets results in Congress and the executive offices. She gets most anything she wants.

Whether Mrs. Longworth deliberately set out to acquire all this political power or whether she attained it through more or less natural developments that she never particularly willed, perhaps she doesn't know herself.

Schooled In Politics From Childhood

Obviously she had certain advantages to begin with. She was a president's daughter and that president was regarded generally as one of the two or three greatest the country ever had.

Of all his childrn she is most like the late Colonel Roosevelt. Everybody who knew him and who knows her agrees on this.

Politics, from the time she began to talk, was part of her life. She never had to study public affairs. They were all about her. She absorbed them as naturally as she breathed.

Then she married Congressman Nicholas Longworth. Just as every good wife tries to help her husband succeed, she set out to help Nicholas Longworth along the road to success in politics. And she pre-eminently knew how.

The Longworths never have been ostentatious Washington entertainers, but they have entertained a great deal. They have the means to do so in the best of style and taste and the personal qualities and background to attract to them the country's ablest and most powerful men. Nobody is "big" enough not to feel flattered by an invitation to the Longworth home.

MRS. ALICE ROOSEVELT LONGWORTH

Influential Men Seek Her Counsel

The visitor meets there the pick of Washington life. These contacts are more than entertaining. They have a concrete value. They develop useful acquaintanceships.

But Mrs. Longworth's own opinions and observations are the ones her visitors particularly seek. They listen and pay attention when she speaks, and it pays, for mighty few of the politicians who, when they speak, know as completely and exactly as Mrs. Longworth knows, what they are talking about.

When Congress is in session, Mrs. Longworth attends the sessions of the House of Representatives almost as faithfully as her husband. She knows absolutely everything that goes on in politics, and she understands it inside-out.

It is no exaggeration to say she shapes national policies, executive and legislative—not all policies, of course, but those she is interested in, and her interests are very wide.

Congressman Longworth is the likeliest candidate for speaker of the House of Representatives after March 4th. If he is chosen, then just that much more power to his wife in national politics.

Not in an uncomplimentary sense; the congressman is his wife's political creation. Nicholas Longworth is an able man and of charming personality. But indolent, as he admits.

Left to himself, he might not have taken the trouble to climb. His wife provided the ingredient of ambition. She provided also a quality of co-operation such as few public men in any country ever have had.

EXODUS IN FOUR REELS

Some student of movie footage has estimated that it would require 400 reels—forty nights of picture showings—to present the story of the Bible in films. In "The Ten Commandments" Cecil B. De Mille it is said has managed to compress the salient events of the Book of Exodus in between four or five reels. The continuity carries the spectator from the Seventh Plague of Egypt through the parting of the Red Sea and the giving of the Law of Sinai to the destruction of the Golden Calf and its worshippers. The hour's spectacle precedes a modern story on the bearing of the Ten Commandments on the life of today.

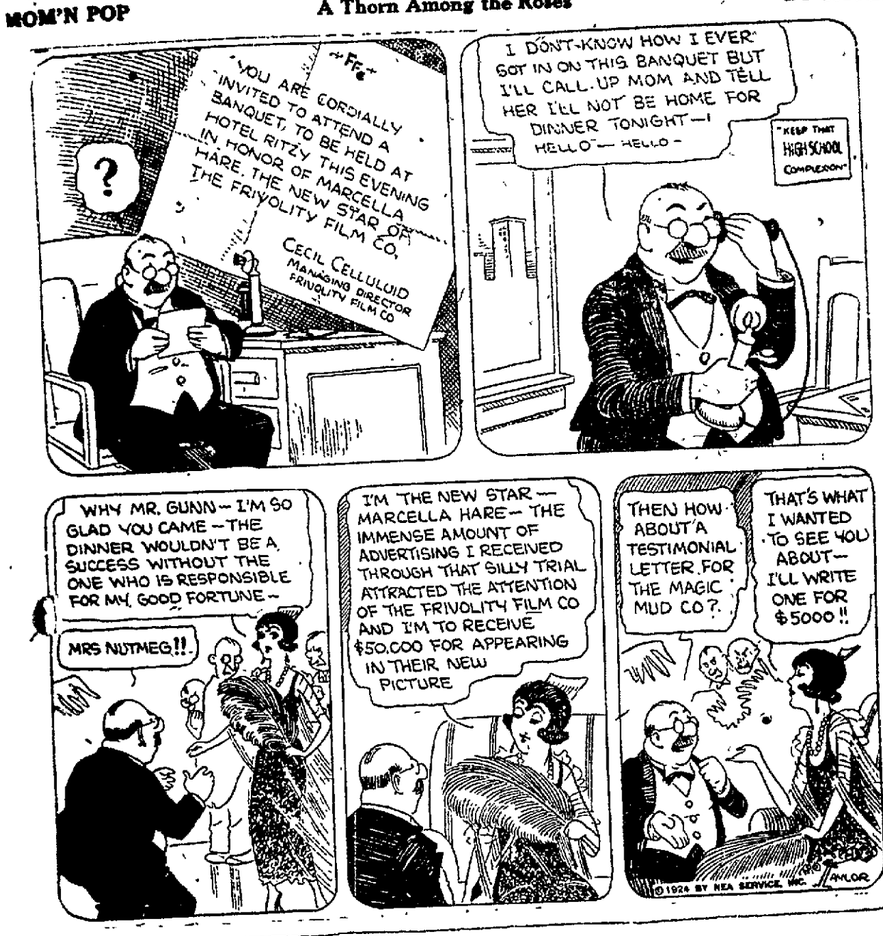
MOM'N POP — A Thorn Among the Roses — BY TAYLOR



Curwensville's Own Column

Miss Mary McClosky, who has been working in the Booth restaurant for over a year, was compelled last week to resign her job on account of ill health.

Obediah Bloom was taken down to Clearfield hospital in order to have another X-Ray picture taken. It might be necessary for him to remain in that institution for several days for treatment. He is not regaining his health as rapidly as his relatives and friends would wish since his serious operation of some weeks ago.

By request we announce that the mothers meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held in the basement of the Methodist Episcopal church on Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 19th, at which time all members are earnestly requested to be present.

Harold Dougherty of Little Rock, Ark., and Scott Dougherty of Knoxville, Tenn., were home this week for a visit with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Dougherty, High street. Both young men are connected with bridge construction work.

Isaac Black received last week a new National three ton truck which will be used in transporting coal to the brick yard and for other draying work.

The funeral of the little Guiher child was held from its late home in Lumber City Saturday afternoon and was attended by a large concourse of relatives from this place and immediate vicinity. Interment of the body was made in Grampian cemetery.

Employes of the Clearfield Colliery or better known as the Bigler mines, tell us that the mines will start up today for an almost weekly and daily run, after an idleness lasting some weeks. Warren Kephart is the superintendent and highly esteemed by all who are in his employ.

The Pennsylvania Hide and Leather company was idle Saturday on account of a boiler inspection.

Messrs Max Lantz and John Kelly spent several days in the vicinity of the Kelly camp on the mountains last week searching for that dead buck that was supposed to have been killed near this camp. They did not succeed in finding any trace or indication that a deer had been killed there as was reported by some city hunters who had been hunting for birds and rabbits the forepart of the week.

Miss Lydia Way, aged 74 years, died at the home of Effie Klinger, Ridge Avenue last Friday morning of endocarditis. She was a daughter of Caleb and Mary (Clever) Way and was born at the farm home on Chestnut Ridge, Pike township, where Gil Wise now resides. The funeral was held on Sunday afternoon, the body being interred in the Friends cemetery near town. She was the last remaining member of the Caleb Way family, which came originally from the Half Moon Valley section in Centre county in the early day settlement on the ridges.

Portage foot ball team was defeated Saturday by C. H. S. on home grounds by score 27-7.

Wanted: All men in Curwensville to know that Mr. Burgoon will be at the Central Hotel Wednesday, Nov 19th with Richmans Clothes. This will be your last chance to order before Xmas. Suits and Overcoats all $22.50. Greatest values under the sun. Richman Bros. Co. 11|17|2t|ch

GRAIN CLOSING

Chicago, Nov. 17. (INS.)—Grains eased off in the later hours of trading today but with the exception of wheat, unished above Saturday's close.

Wheat closed ⅜ to ⅝ off; corn finished ⅛ to 1⅛ higher; oats closed ⅛ to ⅜ higher.

Considerable [illegible] by weak longs as the [illegible] climbed out responsible for [illegible] in wheat. The local trade [illegible] and nervous and [illegible] shaping up to follow the trend of the market either up or down. Cables were higher.

Corn received good support from commission houses and held firm throughout the session. There were reports that demand for old corn was increasing with offerings limited.

Oats worked higher with corn, on fairly good commission house buying and lack of pressure.

World's Greatest Volcano.

The "House of Everlasting Fire" is part of the great volcano Kilauea, on the Hawaiian Islands. What Niagara is among waterfalls Kilauea is among volcanoes. Not so beautiful as Vesuvius or Etna, not so high as some of the lofty flame mountains of South America, Kilauea retains its title by sheer power in which it is unrivaled. The crater, about four miles square in extent, is an area of bleak desolation, a floor of lava cracked and seamed until it resembles one of the circles of horror in Dante's Inferno. —Kansas City Star.

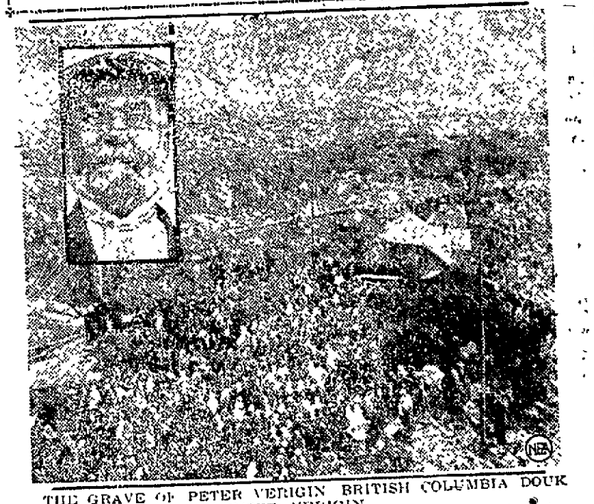
DOUKHOBOR CHIEF BURIED IN ROCK



THE GRAVE OF PETER VERIGIN BRITISH COLUMBIA DOUKHOBOR LEADER AND INSET, VERIGIN

By NEA Service

NELSON, B. C.—Peter Verigin, leader of Canada's Doukhobor colonies, lies in a vault blasted in the rock of a mountain that towers above the principal village.

Five thousand followers carried his body there.

He was regarded by the Doukhobors as divinely sent to lead them. Under his guidance their wealth increased to $5,000,000. They owned sawmills, great farms, several factories.

Verigin, born in Russia, spent 18 years in Siberian exile before he was allowed to come to Canada at the request of the Canadian government, Count Tolstoi and the American Society of Friends. He was killed by a mysterious explosion on board a railroad train.

Real Coats
Yesterday afternoon it was clearly demonstrated that coat weather is here. It has continued today, further emphasizing the fact that you should delay no longer in coming to see these coats that we have here for you.
There are coats of deep-piled materials, there are coats of harder finished fabrics.
Then, too, there are coats with self collars, coats with just a little fur collar and, to meet the demands of real cold weather, there are coats with great warm collars and deep cuffs of the finest kinds of fur.
The stylings keep to the silhouette. Some obtain this effect with a wee belt, others attain it with the over-lapping of one of the reefers.
The prices are low enough so that you won't have to feel that you have been extravagant.

HERE is a cap and scarflet set that would appeal to the girl who goes in for sports and the one who likes to add a dash to a commonplace costume. It is made by crocheting together various shades of green silk thread ranging from the brightest to the softest of greens. The scarf is finished with hand-tied fringe and the hat is made over an ordinary soft turban frame.

MILLIONAIRE'S DAUGHTER GOES ON THE STAGE

Miss Helen MacFadden, the beautiful 18-year-old daughter of Bernarr Macfadden, the multimillionaire publisher of ten magazines and New York's newest daily newspaper, The Graphic, has gone on the stage. Thru exercises Miss Helen has developed the most perfect figure in America. She heads the Bernarr Macfadden Physical Culture Girls who demonstrate the ideas of the "father of physical culture." Charles Morrison, who books all the big vaudeville acts, says this one is so distinctively individual as to be uncommonly different. Miss Macfadden will be seen later in this city.

Lilac Universal Favorite.

From the wilds of Persia and southern Asia the lilac has traveled to Europe and America as a universal favorite of the springtime or lilac-time as the Puritans called it. It was these sturdy religionists who first brought it to America and planted it perhaps as a reminder of England, or possibly because of its sweet scent, its glorious purple, and its pure, simple, yet oftentimes awkward beauty.

FOUR BANDIT CASES IN TODAY'S NEWS; THREE MEN KILLED

Dayton, Ohio, Nov. 17. (INS.)—After shooting David Edwards, 23, shoe store clerk, through the abdomen, at ten o'clock this morning during a holdup, a lone bandit handcuffed Mack Flynn, who had started to investigate the sound of the shooting, to his victim and fled with all the money in the place.

Edwards is reported dying at the hospital.

Chicago, Nov. 17. (INS.)—Four bandits today held up the offices of the Greenberg Silk Company, beat Philip Greenberg, son of the owner, into unconsciousness with the butts of their guns and escaped with silk valued at $6,500, a $2,000 diamond lavailliere, and three diamond rings valued at $2,900, one of which they took from the finger of their victim.

Kansas City, Nov. 17. (INS.)—Fifteen thousand dollars, the week's receipts of the Newman theatre, one of the largest downtown "movie" palaces, was seized by six bandits shortly before noon today from Gus Eysell, treasurer of the theatre, as he was about to enter the Commerce Trust Company.

John R. Barkley, policeman guard accompanying Eysell, was kidnapped by the bandits but was released later several miles from the holdup. Barkley received a congressional medal of honor during the world war.

Granite City, Ill., Nov. 17. (INS.)—Two men were shot and killed and a third was probably fatally wounded when eight bandits, who are believed to have held as prisoners for six hours and robbed more than 50 couples at the Lake View Club, a road house near Mitchell, Illinois, Sunday morning, sought to repeat their performance at the Eagle Park Club, a resort near this city, early today.

The dead, Melvin Norvell, 26, of Madison, Ill., a guard at the roadhouse, and an unidentified bandit.

"Chicken" Ridge, another guard, was seriously wounded.

The eight bandits entered the Eagle Park Club, a roadhouse near Mitchell, Ill., with guns drawn in the midst of a gay dance. At the sight of the robber gang, the orchestra stopped playing. Norvell, who stood near the door, reached for his gun. The bandit leader covered him and searched him. Then he shot Norvell twice, killing him. Ridge, the other guard, managed to get his gun and blazed away at the bandit who fell as his companions riddled Ridge.

The bandits then carried the bodies of the slain men into their machine and drove off toward Granite City. As they passed the city hall here they fired three more shots into Norvell's body and threw it in the street.

The bandits drove to a hospital and carried their leader's body into the operating room, demanding that "something be done for him." He was dead, however.

The robbers left the body and fled. Their loot was estimated at $1,600.

Guard Against "Flu" With Musterole

Musterole is a counter-irritant that relieves congestion (which is what a cold really is) and stimulates circulation.

It has all the good qualities of the old-fashioned mustard plaster without the blister.

Just rub it on with your finger-tips. First you will feel a warm tingle as the healing ointment penetrates the pores, then a soothing, cooling sensation and quick relief.

Have Musterole handy for emergency use. It may prevent serious illness.

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole. 35c and 65c, in jars and tubes.

The Food Of Millions

MILK

Dr. Royal Copeland, in a statement recently published, gives some wonderful figures on the decrease of mortality rates in New York City since he has raised the consumption of milk to about a pint for each person every day.

He says, "The lime in the milk, and those mysterious vitamines, have raised the health standards of this city to a point where it is a healthier people who are going about their daily tasks."

You, too, will find that you are a healthier person when you drink more milk daily.
